GET BAIL, OR JAIL.

Watkins and Pals in Court Today.

Prisoners Since Saturday, Land Sharks May Gain Fresh Whiff.

Charges Against Swindlers Among First to Occupy Grand Jury.

Prominent Men Must Tell Why They Recommended Bunco Game.

OLLIE J. WATKINS and his two associates, Dr. C. P. V. Watson and James Lawrence, who were arrested Saturday night, charged with using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes, and who have spent the intervening time in the County Jail, will appear in the Federal Court this morning. If the prisoners are able to furnish bail they will be given their liberty, pending the action of the grand jury.

The Federal authorities claim to have a strong case against the officers of the crooked California Fruit Growers' Association. "Olly" Watkins in an interview yesterday, protested his innocence and said he was the victim of spite work. Dr. Watson had nothing to say about his arrest. Lawrence, who says he was formerly a bank president in the East, is quoted as saying he owes his present plight to association with a crook.

The grand jury will meet tomorrow. It is believed the case of Watkins and his mates will be among the first considered. This will not be the first time "Olly" has appeared in a United States Court. He barely wriggled out of conviction in Seattle and was indicted in the Federal Court of this district several years ago.

Whether or not other officers of the defunct orange grove swindle will be arrested remains to be seen. It is probable that one or more men formerly connected with the association will be summoned to appear as witnesses for the government.

SOME GOOD NAMES USED.

Several prominent bankers and business men will be subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury and explain their connection with Watkins and his association. From one of the victims, it was learned yesterday that Watkins and Watson made use of letters of recommendation bearing the names of well-known business men. It is not known whether or not these letters are genuine.

Dr. Watson, who is to be given a preliminary examination this week on a charge of perfoming a criminal operation upon a young woman, who died later, received the following alleged recommendation from F. M. Douglas, president of the National Bank of Commerce: "To Whom it May Concera: This is to certify that Dr. C. P. V. Watson is a valued stockholder in our bank, the National Bank of Commerce in Los Angeles—that we know him personally and in a business way and believe him to be a successful business man and careful to meet any and all engagements. [Signed] F. M. Douglas, president."

In a letter to E. W. Miner of Detroit, Mich., the name of Edward J. Pyle, cashier of the Pasadena National Bank, Pasadena, is used as an indorser of the California Fruit Growers' Association. Pyle, however, only vouches for R. E. and Louis H. Bassett, formerly connected with the association.

"BRIGHT FUTURE" COMING.

F. A. Tappe, secretary of the Buffalo Hay Press Company, last year gave a supposed strong testimonial of the merits of the Watkins land swindle. In a letter to William Huttig at Kansas City, Mo., Tappe says:

"I have secured a block of stock and associated myself with the California Fruit Growers' Association of Los Angeles. I have made a thorough examination of the records of the business. I am persuaded that they have a very bright future before them, and are thoroughly capable of fulfilling their agreements."

The assistant secretary of the Golden Fruit, Land and Water Company of Rialto, said to be another of Watkins's fake associations, in a letter to Ira A. Leighley, now connected with the California Fruit Growers' Association, gives a strong boost for the association. He says in part:

"We will say they have about 2500 acres of as good land as there is in Southern California. They have been clearing up a large acreage the past winter and intend setting out 200 acres this spring (1906.) The company is considered thoroughly reliable, and it certainly can carry out its contracts promptly."

"MOONSHINE" VS. SUNSHINE.

A facsimile letter purporting to be written by J. B. Dudley, a relative of Watkins, has been used extensively in literature of the association. It is as follows:

"RIALTO (Cal.) Feb. 17, 1906.

"Ira A. Leighley, Chamber of Commerce, Detroit, Mich.:

"Dear Sir: Your letter received, and in reply will say that I am more than pleased with Rialto. Never had so much comfort in my life as I have at Rialto. No cold weather. Sunshine most of the time. After going over the property of the California Fruit Growers' Association of Los Angeles here, am glad I came, six children and all. Have had steady work for myself and three oldest boys ever since my arrival here. The company is thoroughly responsible, fully able, can and will carry out all its contracts promptly.

[Signed] "J. B. DUDLEY."

Attorneys representing about sixty contract holders are wondering where Watkins placed his enormous dividends that have been pouring into his luxurious offices in the H. W. Hellman building for more than a year. His income, it is asserted, has averaged more than $5000 a month and 'side-grafts" have presumably netted the smooth faker considerably more.

PREPARES FOR STORM.

Several days ago Watkins went to Rialto, and is said to have made several transfers of property, supposedly to prepare for the coming storm that he felt was about due. If the title to the Rialto land were of any intrinsic value, attachments might be levied, but the lawyers are not counting much on any results from the "orange groves" which Watkins painted in such glowing colors in his extensively circulated literature.

George Hager Tousey of No. 349 West One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, New York, talked to The Times correspondent the other day regarding the "Olly" Watkins swindle. He formerly lived in Rialto. He said:

"Neither the Lytle Creek Water and Improvement Company nor the Fontana Development Company would sell any of its water to the California Fruit Growers' Association. Both these companies control all the water that comes to the Rialto irrigation district, and the demand upon them for water is greater than they can supply. They will only furnish water to those who buy direct from them."

Tousey tells how Watkins once hired some men in Los Angeles to work grubbing out underbrush in the "orange groves." After getting the men to Rialto, he promptly discharged them without giving them a cent of wages. In revenge some of the men set fire to Watkins's barn.

"SUCKERS" COME ON.

At another time, Tousey says, Watkins enticed four men from the East on the promise of giving them work in his groves. After they arrived he induced them all to take up contracts for the purchase of land. When their money gave out, he discharged all of them.

Since the first reports of the Watkins's bunco scheme went out, his New York offices have been invaded by disappointed contract holders. Vice-President G. Maurice Bartlett has endeavored to stem the tide, but in vain, and he is now on his way West. Watkins maintained expensive offices in the Metropolitan Life building in New York.

Since the disclosures of his business methods, little new business has been obtained, but plenty of old purchasers kept the office force busy answering complaints.

The District Attorney in New York has been furnished with particulars of Watkins's graft and "Olly" will be kept busy dodging criminal complaints in whatever part of the country he goes, if by any chance he should manage to wriggle out of his present difficulties in this city.

RIALTO'S VIEW OF "OLLY."

The San Bernardino Sun makes a caustic comment on Watkins. It is interesting reading, as it shows how "Olly" is regarded in the community he says has endeavored to enrich.

"Land swindlers must go' is the word that has been passed out by Editor Cowles of the Rialto Dispatch. Referred to the manner of land deals which had come under his notice which were off color, and the ink on his paper had hardly time to get cold when O. J. Watkins, a man named Leithley, who poses as secretary of Watkins's Land Company, and C. H. Pieders, the Rialto man on the ground for Watkins crowded into the editor's office, coming through the rear entrance, and demanded an apology or the editor would be wiped off the face of the earth.

"Editor Cowles was not at all backward about telling his visitors that there was nothing doing. He even went so far as to give them promise of another exposure this week. They threatened him with all kinds of violence, and Watkins pulled off his coat to give the impression that he was about to clean the floor with the editor man. Editor Cowles remained firm and Watkins slipped his coat on again. By this time the uproar of the land dealers had attracted a large crowd, but there wasn't much encouragement for the three would-be assailants. Still breathing dire punishments they beat a hasty retreat.

RISE AGAINST EVIL.

"The people of Rialto have determined to combine for the eradication of the evil, having long realized that these schemers were working an injury to the community that could not be repaired in years.

"One instance was cited by the Dispatch. An aged man named Field had been halted by the operators. He comes from New York. He was led to sign a contract to pay $1000 to the corporation through which Watkins is alleged to operate, with the understanding that he was to get the place of book-keeper. When he arrived in Rialto he was informed that the job was not open, as the corporation had abolished it. It is asserted that Field is well along in years and gave about all of his savings into the keeping of the promoters of the deal.

"Editor Cowles says that there are numerous victims who are complaining of the manner in which they have been duped. In many instances these people are led to sign contracts agreeing to buy acreage property which is heavily incumbered, but this incumbrance they know nothing of until after the papers are passed. There are said to be many other kinks in the scheme."

FRENCH NAVY CARELESS.

Numerous Accidents Cause Demand for Searching Inquiry Into State of Discipline.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Recent accidents revive the suspicion that the spirit of laxity has become general in the French navy. A few days ago a quartermaster caused a fire on the battleship Brennus by entering the storeroom with a lighted candle in one hand and a can of gasoline in the other.

On the same day another fire occurred on the battleship Charles Martel, also at Toulon. Now the submarine Gymnote is a total loss through being flooded with water, which was let into the dry dock, without any one making sure that her portholes were closed.

These incidents, coupled with the explosion which wrecked the battleship Jena, and the loss of two cruisers on a well-known coast, cause a demand for a searching inquiry into the state of naval discipline.

CANADIAN MINISTER COMING.

OTTAWA (Ont.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior in the Dominion Cabinet, left today for Boston, and from there will go to New York, Washington, Baltimore, Norfolk, Jamestown, Indianapolis, Kansas City, St. Paul, Chicago and Toledo. He intends to pay a visit to the Canadian immigration offices in the United States, particularly at these cities. These have everything to do with matters pertaining to navigation and are under the jurisdiction of his department.

Police Learn of a Plot to Attack Chutes Car and Lay in Ambush.

Three of Carmen's "Hospital Corps" Are Landed in Jail as Result.

It Is Expected They Will Confess Whole Infamous Plot of the Union.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The unions are going to make a desperate effort to force the President to publicly disgrace Gen. Funston on account of the letter to the Fourth of July Committee in which Funston alluded to the ruffians who are daily insulting women, attacking street cars with dynamite and bricks as "unwhipped mobs."

In the Examiner this morning appeared a long editorial filled with abuse of that gallant officer, demanding his recall and disgrace.

The Examiner today says there are no mobs and that the city is at peace. In the next column to this editorial appears the account of a dastardly attack by an organized gang of armed thugs to mob a Chutes car with the intention of murdering the car crew.

MISTAKEN FOR A "SCAB."

As to whether there are actually any "unwhipped mobs" in San Francisco at this time, it might be mentioned that a deserter from the army narrowly escaped being murdered by a mob last night in the Fillmore-street district because he started to run from an officer. The crowd thought he must be a "scab" and instantly started in pursuit and beat the man terribly before he was rescued by the police.

Except for the extreme vigilance of the police, there would be half a dozen murders every night on Fillmore street. The night seldom passes that men are not set upon and beaten. The experience of this deserter shows that it may easily mean death to run down a public street in this city.

It is reported tonight that a number of striking union carmen have been engaged by a detective agency to go back to Detroit and act as strike-breakers in a strike about to be called in that city.

Union men admitted tonight that an ax is hanging over the head of Richard Cornelius, the insolent cockney who heads the Carmen's Union. The many grave scandals involving him have been brought to a head by the arrest of three men of the gang who were detailed by the Carmen's Union to mob a Chutes car last night.

Several city detectives worked all day trying to find the rest of the gang, who escaped from the police ambuscade in the darkness.

Absolute proof is said to be in the hands of the police that this raid, with a number of others, was organized in the office of the carmens' union. The raid is said to have been "tipped off" to the police through the secret service department of the United Railroads. It was known that an attempt would be made to raid a Chutes car and murder the crew some night last week, but the police had many hours of patient but fruit less waiting.

POLICE AMBUSCADE.

About 8 o'clock last night, however, the attack came off. Capt. Colby of the detective department and Capt. Gleason of the police, had eight men lying in wait in the underbrush. The region is very lonely and unfrequented, being beyond the Chutes.

As one of the cars came by the police saw a gang of men rush out from the roadside. One of them jerked the trolley off the wire while the others piled on board the car, making a savage and murderous attack on the car crew. The conductor escaped by jumping through the window. Capt. Gleason fired his revolver as a signal and the police surrounded the ruffians. In the wildness of their cowardly flight, however, five out of the eight got away.

John Kyle, Rudolph Schmitz and George Peterson, all strikers, were the men arrested. They spent last night and all day today in a "detinue cell," not yet charged. An attempt will be made to fasten felony complaints on them.

MAY EXPOSE ENTIRE PLOT.

Although the police would make no very definite statements today, it is known that Detective Tom Gibson, one of the most skilful experts in the State, gave each of the three men a fierce "sweating." The strong probability is that the whole infamous plot of the Carmen's Union will be confessed.

These men are known to be members of what the Carmen's Union calls the "hospital squad," on account of their skill in "rough house crimes."

Strong sweating will certainly bring out the connection of Cornelius and Bowling with the shipment of dynamite into this city and the thirty-odd attempts that have been made to dynamite cars.

All the union officials had to say tonight was the usual silly howl that the attack upon the Chutes car was "a plot of the United Railroads." The three union men arrested were found to be armed with gas pipes, brass knuckles and guns.

POLICE TO CLAIM REWARD.

It is said that the police will claim the $500 reward offered by the union for the arrest of any union man caught in the commission of violence against the United Railroad cars. The arrest of Cornelius is freely predicted by union men.

UPHOLDS FUNSTON'S WORDS.

War Department Indorses Stand Taken by Doughty Army Officer Who Refused to Be Bluffed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although none of the officials of the War Department would authorize any statement as to what action, if any, will be taken as a result of a complaint which the Fourth-of-July Celebration Committee of San Francisco is to make against Gen. Frederick Funston, in conmand of the Department of California, who told the committee he was opposed to having his troops parade before an "unwhipped mob," it is said that, as the case now stands, the War Department will uphold Gen. Funston.

So far no details have reached here. Even if Gen. Funston may have been indiscreet, in view of the great and efficient services which he has rendered and his excellent judgment of conditions in San Francisco, it is not likely officials here will interfere.

Army officers here believe Gen. Funston has good reasons for what he says and does, and that when the facts become known he will be found to have taken the right course.

CHILD DRUGGED AND ASSAULTED.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD OUTRAGED IN ST. LOUIS PARK.

Thousands of Holiday-Makers Near Spot When Unknown Man Chloroformed Little Girl and Raped Her. Police Station and Main Driveway Only 200 Yards Distant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being enticed to a secluded ravine in Forest Park to pick flowers, little Mariolla Singer, 7 years old, of No. 4047 Clayton avenue, was chloroformed and assaulted this evening by an unidentified white man. The child's father is Leonard Singer, a machinist.

The crime was committed within 200 yards of the mounted district police station, and within less than 200 feet of Clayton road and Jefferson drive, the two main driveways of the park, while between ten and fifteen thousand persons were on the grounds.

When she had arrived in the ravine, the child said tonight, the man asked her if she "ever smelled flowers as sweet as this," at the same time placing a handkerchief to her nose. He compelled her to whiff the handkerchief and she became unconscious.

When she recovered she walked or crawled to the top of the ravine, where several young men discovered her and carried her to her home.

Many persons in the crowd at the park saw the man leading the child into the ravine, but believed him to be her father, and suspected nothing wrong.

Physicians believe that Mariolla will recover. Her assailant has not been captured.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SHIP.

KIEL (Germany) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Herr Ballin, of the Hamburg-American Company, while at the North Elbe regatta, gave an order to Lord Pierrie of Harland-Wolff's shipyard, Belfast, for the largest steamship in the world, (50,000 tons,) surpassing the big Cunard liner now building.

LOCK MILLIONAIRE IN CELL AS BURGLAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter S. Chatterton, whose stepfather is a member of the law firm of William M. Ivins, and who is a man of wealth, chief stockholder of a power company at No. 137 Liberty street, and resides in Mt. Hope Place, Tremont, was arrested by Headquarters Detectives John C. Fogarty and Boyle last Friday evening in Harlem, and taken to the central office as "Uly" Burke, a professional bank burglar.

There were a score of persons within reach who could have identified Mr. Chatterton, but he was threatened with rough usage, denied opportunity to prove that he was Chatterton, and a friend who insisted upon accompanying him to headquarters, was ill treated.

Locked in a cell, he was kept all night with thieves.

When he entered the café of John Haase, in Park avenue Friday night, he was talking to Haase, when he felt a touch on his arms, and was accosted by Boyle, who asked him to come to the door of the café. There Fogarty took Mr. Chatterton by the arm, saying:

"Well, Burke, I've got you at last."

Mr. Chatterton told the men that if they would reënter Hasse's's place or go to any of a dozen stores near by, they would learn all about him. Fogarty and Boyle refused, and threatened if Mr. Chatterton resisted at all they would put the "nippers" on him. One of Mr. Chatterton's friends, Mr. Jacoby, discovered what was going on and accompanied the party to headquarters.

There Mr. Chatterton was searched and the proxies, as well as a letter to him from Mr. Ivins were found, but in spite of this evidence and other proof of his identity he offered to supply if permitted to use the telephone, he was sent to the cell as Chatterton, alias Burke, and charged with bank burglary.

GIRL IN ALLIGATOR PIT.

Saurians Lash Her With Tails and Bite Her on Legs While She Clings to Railing for Life.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Annie Woods of No. 3431 Olive street, 15 years old, narrowly escaped death this afternoon while assisting in feeding live rats to the alligators at Delmar Garden. She was rescued from the pit in which she had fallen by P. A. McMillan, the custodian of the reptiles, after one of them had struck the child with its tail, and another had bitten her on the calf of the leg.

Had the girl not shown remarkable presence of mind, she might have been killed. The eight saurians were catching the rats in their wide open jaws when Annie leaned over the railing, lost her balance and fell in. One of the alligators struck her with his tail and another seized her by the leg but she pulled herself up and held on to the railing of the pit with her legs dangling down just above the mouths of the alligators. One of the monsters grasped her slipper in his teeth and pulled it off, while another tore both of her stockings.

She was almost exhausted and about to release her hold when McMillan rescued her.

EIGHT DIE IN TRAIN WRECK.

THIRTY-FOUR HURT IN DISASTER IN CONNECTICUT.

Work Cars and Passengers Collide Spreading Death and Agony Among People—Take Hour and Half to Rescue One Man Pinned Under Debris.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight workmen were killed and thirty-five injured when a passenger train on the Highland division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad crashed into the rear end of a work train that was backing into the city from New Britain, tonight at Sigourney street crossing. Of the injured, two are not expected to recover.

Dead and dying were strewn along the sides of the track, while unfortunate victims, terribly injured, were beneath the wreckage, some pinned amid a mass of tangled iron and wood. Their groans and appeals for aid moved the rescuers to desperation, and brave men worked till prostrated in an attempt to extricate the sufferers. Some of the victims within easy reach were dead, and after this fact was definitely ascertained they were left while the rescuers united in releasing the living.

It took an hour and a half to rescue one workman, who was pinned between trucks, his head hanging down backward. He suffered greatly, but the rescuers kept encouraging him while doctors reached under the framework which held him and treated the wounds on his face and head.

Engine Driver Wilson of the passenger train, jumped in time to escape injury. The passengers were badly shaken and several were cut by flying glass.

At St. Francis Hospital there are thirty-one victims tonight. The doctors say that two of them cannot live and they are unable to give any detailed information regarding the condition of the rest. At the Hartford hospital there are four injured.

WOMEN IN JAIL FOR PRINCIPLE.

DO NOT WANT FREEDOM TILL BAD MAN IS GONE.

Attempted to Lynch Because They Believe Him to Be a Bigamist, Though He Was Acquitted of the Charge—May Remain in Prison for a Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Six women of Assumption, Ill., five of them mothers of families, and one girl of 17, are in jail at Taylorville, sixteen miles from their homes, and they say they will stay there until the morality of their town is vindicated.

With a word they could gain freedom, but they are fighting for a principle. They have sent this message to their husbands and relatives in Assumption:

"Do not come to us. Do not try to get bond for us until you have driven that bad man away."

The "bad man" is Alfred Bouriard, whom the six women, led by his wife No. 1, Eugenia, the "Lady of Sorrows," attempted to lynch at Assumption because they believed he was a bigamist.

Sitting on a long bench in the Taylorville jail, the six women weep—but not for themselves; compassion for the "Lady of Sorrows" brings tears to their eyes.

They must remain in jail a year if they refuse to accept bond. While the women who accuse him are in jail, Alfred Bouriard, the accused man, who has been acquitted of the charge of bigamy, is living in Assumption with the woman declared by the State to be his legal wife. The women in jail call her Wife No. 2. They say she is Zelide Lasuse, a cobbler's wife, with whom Bouriard fled from France, but she maintains that her name is Bouriard, and that she knows no husband but the miner whom her women neighbors, in the prison at Taylorville, tried to lynch.

At Pana, nine miles south of Assumption, lives the "Lady of Sorrows" known as "Wife No. 1." She also was placed under a peace bond, and she spent a day in the Taylorville jail, but she was released on the condition that she remain away from Assumption, and refrain from inciting riot against Bouriard.

Immigration Treaty Is Not Desired.

Hayashi Tells Ambassador Wright Negotiations Are Impossible.

Present Understanding as to Passports Cannot Be Made More Formal.

Tokio Ministry Is Afraid to Agitate the Matter at the Present Time.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Viscount Hayashi has given Ambassador Wright to understand that the Japanese government will not, under any circumstances, enter into negotiations with the United States over an immigration treaty at this time, or at any time in the near future.

Repeated reports of anti-Japanese outbreaks in San Francisco are, in a measure, responsible for this attitude of the Japanese government, since these dispatches have a tendency to stir up a feeling which has been dormant since the supposed settlement of the school controversy. But the real reason lies deeper.

Just as the men at the head of this government will never consent to a treaty providing in explicit terms for exclusion of Japanese while the people of Europe are admitted to American territory, neither will they take any step to secure a treaty going no further than the present understanding between the two nations.

STATUS OF CONTROVERSY.

The exact situation with regard to Japanese immigration is not clearly understood in the United States. For several years there has existed a friendly understanding that no passports would be granted to Japanese laborers to go to the mainland of the United States, this being similar to the agreement made by Japan with British Columbia and Australia.

Now that this understanding has been supplemented by the amendments to our immigration law prohibiting foreigners coming in from Hawaii, as well as from Canada and Mexico, there is practical exclusion of the classes of Japanese to which the people of San Francisco object, though no distinction is made between the laborers of this and other nations.

But, in the interests of peace on the Pacific Coast, President Roosevelt and Secretary Root would like to see the existing understanding with regard to the issuance of passports embodied in a formal treaty, and to this end Ambassador Wright has had several recent conferences with Viscount Hayashi.

"AGITATION DANGEROUS."

While the Minister for Foreign Affairs and his associates in the Cabinet have made it clear that the government has no objection to the present arrangement, the last amendments to the immigration law being construed to be wholly within our treaty rights as on their surface they involve no discrimination against Japan, they have made it equally clear that further agitation of the exclusion question in any form, that is, any insistence upon a treaty, would be like "putting a match to gunpowder," so far as Japanese public sentiment is concerned.

The fact is that the present Cabinet did not emerge from the school controversy with any amount of public approval to its credit. The Cabinet has no strong party at its back, and is without any united or powerful following.

It is manifest, in view of existing conditions, that any insistence upon the part of the American government for treaty negotiations at this time will bring from Minister Hayashi one of those flat refusals so unwelcome to diplomacy. It would, moreover, serve to fan into flame the latent anti-American feeling to the serious detriment of American interests in Japan, and that without doing any body any good.

REMOTE CHANCES FOR TREATY.

Perhaps, if the present ministry gets a new lease of life by indorsement in the elections, it will feel freer to take up the immigration question with the view to a treaty; but to consent to negotiations at this time would be nothing short of political hari-kari.

If the ministry is overthrown and another one with strong political backing secures the reins of government, something may be accomplished in the treaty line, provided the immigration question has not been one of the factors in bringing about the change. If that question is made an issue at all, the decision of the people will be with the element opposing to the extremest limit any treaty that can be construed as a reflection upon Japanese people, no matter what their station in life. For, upon this subject, the people of Japan stand together as one man.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP SCANDAL IN INDIANA.

Hanging of Yellow-Dog "Express" in Its Own Noose—Refusal of Demagogic Sheet to Print Facts—Wears Labor Union Collar.

IN THE opinion and general policy of the Evening Express any information is deemed "tainted news" which is not stamped with the totem and does not emanate from labor-union sources; and any man who does not wear the collar worn by Harry Orchard and Haywood is a "scab."

As ta the utter unreliability and rascality of the Express, that was fully shown, once and for all time, last December when the city election returns demonstrated the fraudulent and rotten character of the Express fake voting contest—a fake which The Times had exposed and abolished, as the Express frequently and perforce acknowledges; indeed, like the boy who had the itch, it seems to be proud of it.

With characteristic disregard of truth, the Express of Saturday charged (without making the least investigation or paying the slightest attention to facts) that The Times had perpetrated a fraud in printing on June 16, as an exclusive dispatch from Alexandria, Ind. (relative to the transfer of the Alexandria and Fairmount electric light plants) matter which was not a telegraphic dispatch, but a fake. The dispatch stated:

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALEXANDRIA (Ind.) June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Alexandria electric light and power plant, a municipal venture that was started several years ago, will be transferred this week to the Central Indiana Lighting Company under a contract which is the result of a forced sale.

The plant was advertised to be sold at public auction, but the Central company purchased all the outstanding bonds and took up all the other obligations of the plant and will begin its operation in a few days, or as soon as the formal transfer can be made. The municipal plant at Fairmount has passed to the same company.

THE FACTS.

The facts, which the Express might easily have ascertained if it had cared the least about such things as facts—facts free from socialistic and labor-union taint, are these:

The dispatch referred to came by wire on the night of June 9, dated as above, from the News Bureau of the Indianapolis Star, which furnishes news to The Times and other papers from all over Indiana. It is the largest news bureau in Indiana, and the Star is one of the foremost newspapers of that State.

Now as to the contents of the dispatch.

The Mayor of Alexandria is quoted by the Express as saying that "the news is absolutely false." If Mayor Edwards ever really wrote such a statement he is disingenuous. The striking fact is that an attempt was made to municipalize the plant, but it was a failure, another one in a long list. The Times has made a careful investigation, and scouted evidence from several sources. The Indianapolis Star News Bureau, which sent the original dispatch, wired yesterday as follows:

WORSE AND MORE OF IT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) June 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The sale of the electric light plants at Alexandria and Fairmount to the Central Company has brought about a controversy as to whether the plants were municipal or private and out of this have come the peculiar and striking facts in respect to the exact status of these plants at the time they were sold.

When the municipal-ownership mania struck Madison county, the city of Anderson inaugurated water-works and electric light plants. The city of Alexandria, in that county, and the city of Fairmount, just over the line in Grant county, were seized with the mania. Neither place was able to start plants on account of lack of money and, as there were already private plants in operation, the sentiment of the people, especially of the taxpaying class, was opposed to such ventures.

Negotiations were started at different times and tentative arrangements made for the purchase of the plants in the near future. In the meantime there was a change of administration at Anderson and the discovery was made that the city had been carrying a total of $134,000 insurance on its electric light and water plants. Twenty-six thousand of this insurance was on a cement filtration plant that was always full of water and couldn't possibly burn. A member of the Board of Works was the agent for the insurance companies which placed the insurance. The new administration immediately rescinded the contracts for the insurance and $4000 in premiums was returned to the city.

The scandal came while Alexandria and Fairmount were considering the purchase of the plants and it created such a sensation that all negotiations were declared off. The impression, however, had gone forth that the two cities had owned the plants and had lost money and when the recent sales were made it was reported that the cities had parted with their plants. It appears now that the sale to the cities was never really made because of the insurance scandal at Anderson, which aroused the people to such opposition that the deal was called off.

MORE TESTIMONY.

The Times also received yesterday the following dispatch from the editor of the Alexandria Times-Tribune:

ATTEMPT TO MUNICIPALIZE, A FAILURE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALEXANDRIA (Ind.) June 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Alexandria electric light and power plant was never a municipal enterprise. An attempt was made to induce the city to purchase, but it was never accomplished. A couple of years ago the plant was bonded and a Cincinnati firm bought the bonds at $45,000. After the sale of the bonds the firm at Cincinnati became dissatisfied and the plant was placed in the hands of a receiver and the Anderson Trust Company was the receiver. Again the plant did not pay and it was advertised at receivers' sale and sold to the Central Company for enough to cover the bond. The Central Company at the same time took an option on the Elwood plant and deposited $5000 in good faith for the purchase. The Central Company forfeited the $5000 on the Elwood plant for some reason.

The Summitville plant was sold to the Central Company at the same time that the Alexandria plant was sold. The Fairmont plant was not sold. The Alexandria plant is badly crippled; the machinery is poor; there was a second-hand engine added during the management by the receiver, but it gave no better service. The report is that the power plant will be abandoned in this city and that the company will establish a massive power plant near the coal fields which will furnish all the power needed for the several plants now owned by the Central Lighting Company, whose home office is in New York.

I. N. FRENCH, Editor Times-Tribune.

FINALLY.

The original queries and telegrams above quoted or referred to are on file in this office, and the Western Union Telegraph Company has the record of them.

Of course the demagogic and discredited Express will not have the courage nor the honesty to give its deluded readers, (few in number) the facts as printed above.

In its spineless hypocritical and foolish kow-towing to the labor-unionites, the Express will continue to print only news with the labor union virus in it—filled with poison against corporations and absolutely unreliable.

The Times will continue to search for and print the facts with regard to economic questions, (correcting itself when led into error) and will give a fair hearing to corporations as well as to those outside of corporations. If this be printing "tainted news," the yellow dog Express and its canine companion, the Examiner, are welcome to make the most of it.

WASHINGTON.

FINDS DAVIS'S WOMAN'S GARB.

WAR OFFICE CLERK UNCOVERS INTERESTING RELICS.

Shawl and Raincoat Worn by Confederate President When Captured by Federal Troops Are Discovered in Tin Box in Old Safe in Department.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A valuable find was made at the War Department yesterday. It was a tin box containing the waterproof cloak and the shawl worn by Jefferson Davis as a disguise at the time of his capture in May, 1865, and also the spurs by which he was detected.

These interesting relics were brought to light by Fred G. Carpenter, the private secretary to the Secretary of War, while exploring the interior of a large neglected safe in an out-of-the-way office room. Accompanying the relics are various official documents identifying them as belonging to Jefferson Davis and as having been worn by him at the time of his capture.

This makes the first time these relics have seen the light of day for many years. They were returned to the box and later to the safe. Some day a glass case may be procured for them so that they can be placed on exhibition in the Secretary's reception room beside the flag that floated over Fort sumter at the opening of the war and the flag which covered the body of President Lincoln during the journey to its last resting place in Springfield, Ill.

And yet it is doubtful whether the relics will stand long exposure to the light. The woman's shawl, which is of black cashmere with a colored border, is already full of holes. The waterproof cloak or raglan, is in a better state of preservation. It is a long dark gray waterproof, loose flowing robe, with buttons all the way down in front and long sleeves. It was the kind of cloak that was much worn by the women of the Civil War period.

CAMERAS FOR INSPECTORS.

WILL ENFORCE FOOD LAW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Department of Agriculture has entered into a contract for $1000 worth of cameras and camera supplies to be used in the enforcement of the Pure Food Law.

The cameras will be placed in the hands of [illegible] inspectors, detailed to examine factories in which foods are prepared. Their instructions will be to make a picture of every room or appliance which they think is not up to the standard, to be used as evidence in the event that the prosecution is necessary or the manufacturers raise any question as to the accuracy of the inspector's report. Not every inspector will have a camera, but there will be enough of them to supply the demand whenever an inspector finds a manufacturer who is bull-headed and insists on being shown why he should clean up or make any change in his plant.

EMPEROR WINS RACE.

German Ruler Sends His Yacht Skimming Over Course to Victory Over the Hamburg.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KIEL (Germany) June 22.—Emperor William conducted religious services on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern at 9 o'clock this morning. Afterward he sailed the Meteor again to victory over the Hamburg, which gave up the race. In the half gale the Meteor covered the 33-knot course in 2h. 22m. 53s.

The American-built yawl Navahoe in her class beat the Comet 22m. 10s.

Emperor William dined with Mrs. Robert Goelet aboard her yacht Nahama this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie were among the guests. The Prussian government has provided a special car for Mr. Carnegie's journey to The Hague. Accompanied by his wife, he will leave at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning and the Prussian government has arranged with the Holland government for the car to go through by the most direct route, three changes thus being avoided.

STORM SWEEPS OIL FIELD.

TULSA (I. T.) June 23.—A violent storm swept over this section of Indian Territory early today, causing damage to property estimated at nearly half a million dollars. A terrific electrical storm accompanied the wind, and lightning struck oil tanks all over the mid-continent field. In Glenn Pool, near Tulsa, a 55,000-barrel tank of the Quaker Oil and Gas Company and a 100,000-barrel earthen storage tank of the Victor Oil and Gas Company and a dozen other small tanks were struck by lightning and are still burning fiercely. William S. Mowry of this city suffered a loss at Coply Bluff of nine 15,000-barrel tanks, and the Standard Oil's tanks at this place were almost totally destroyed.

HEAVY SNOW IN BUTTE.

BUTTE (Mont.) June 23.—Fourteen inches of snow fell in Butte today, but by nightfall the streets were a mash of slush. The government rain gauge showed a net precipitation of 1¼ inches. Extensive damage was done to the trees at Columbia Gardens, the wet and clinging snow breaking many large and small branches. The precipitation for the past three days is more than the normal figure for the entire month.

KILLS WHILE IN DREAM.

Italian Who Slew Man and Wounded Two Women on Railway Train Tells Why He Did It.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GOODLAND (Kan.) June 23.—John Bello, the Italian who killed a man and wounded two women passengers on Rock Island train east of here last night, told through an interpreter yesterday the story of the shooting.

Bello asserted that he committed the murder in his sleep as the result of a dream. His story, dramatically told, with many tearful protestations of honesty, follows:

"My wife and children and I and Patsy Leganbradi and his wife and children lived in Genoa. We decided to come to the New World and get rich, as we heard it was easy to do. We landed in Boston from the White Star liner Cymric a few days ago and took a train for the West. We were on the way to California.

"We were in a strange land among people whose language we could not understand. I had been nervous from the time we left home. Last night I went to sleep in my seat and I had a terrible dream. I dreamed that a man with a white handkerchief over his face had me by the throat and was trying to rob me.

"I fought with all my strength. Finally I managed to throw my assailant off. The robber turned to run. I had a revolver in my pocket, and I seized it and began to shoot.

"All of this was in my sleep. The report of the weapon awakened me and I found myself on my feet with the pistol in my hand shooting right and left. God knows I did not mean to kill any one. It was all a terrible dream."

Carl V. Kopp, the tailor who was killed by the Italian, was asleep in his seat with a white handkerchief over his face. Bello is in the jail here. He sits rocking back and forth with his face in his hands, muttering in Italian.

AUTO CAUSES RIDER'S DEATH.

HORSEMAN KILLED NEAR GATEWAY TO SAGAMORE HILL.

Animal Shies at Machine, Rears and Falls Through Hedge, Fatally Crushing George Spencer—Woman Companions Leaps from Her Mount to Run to His Assistance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the avenue near the gateway which leads to President Roosevelt's residence at Sagamore Hill, George Spencer of No. 11 West Sixteenth street, this city, while horseback riding, was killed this afternoon. His horse shied at a passing automobile and, while Mr. Spencer was trying to force the animal to face the machine a second time, he and the horse fell through a hedge. Mr. Spencer received a fracture of the skull, from which he died in an hour.

With Mr. Spencer at the time of the accident, and also mounted on a horse, was Mrs. George T. Maxwell, wife of a broker of this city. Mr. Spencer was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell over Sunday. Mrs. Maxwell is a horsewoman of ability and Mr. Spencer was also a good rider.

They left the Maxwell house soon after noon for an hour's ride over the Oyster Bay roads, and were near the entrance to Sagamore Hill when an automobile flashed in sight. Mr. Spencer's horse indicated uneasiness and shied to the side of the road. As the automobile approached, Mr. Spencer reined up the horse and endeavored to make him face the machine. The horse continued to retreat, finally rearing and falling through a thick hedge of cedar. Mr. Spencer went down with the horse, which struggled to his feet, and ran off, leaving Mr. Spencer lying on the ground unconscious.

Mrs. Maxwell, who had been riding close to Mr. Spencer and had urged him to keep the horse's head toward the automobile, leaped from her horse, and, with the occupants of the automobile, went to Mr. Spencer's side.

KIDNAPED BOY STRANGLED.

Body of Child Stolen and Held for Ransom Found in Swamp—Italians Face Lynching.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two miles in the interior of a big swamp near this city the headless body of Walter Lamana, an Italian child between 7 and 8 years old, who was kidnaped and held for $6000 ransom two weeks ago, was found by police and vigilantes just before daybreak today. He had been strangled to death, according to the confession of several Italians held by the police.

The boy's neck is supposed to have broken when he was strangled, causing the head to become separated from the body, when decomposition set in. The head was found a short distance from the body.

Five Italians, two of them women, are under arrest charged with being accomplices to the murder, and extra details of police and deputies are maintaining order in the excited Italian quarter. All day long small crowds have been dispersed promptly by the police despite whose precautions a report has got out summoning a mass-meeting at Elk Place.

Seventy armed deputies have been placed on guard at the Orleans Parish Prison, the strongest in the State, where three of the prisoners are held, and some apprehension has been felt over the safety of two other prisoners who were last night taken to an adjoining parish.

TEXAS TO BAR CONSUMPTIVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All persons suffering from tuberculosis in an advanced state are to be debarred from entering Texas.

Dr. W. H. Brumby, State Health Officer, said tonight that, within a few days, he will issue a proclamation establishing a rigid quarantine against all persons afflicted with the disease in an acute degree. In doing this he places tuberculosis in the same category with yellow fever and smallpox.

Dr. Brumby has just returned from a trip of investigation to points in Southwest Texas, where, he says, he found many persons who had just entered the State suffering with tuberculosis. It is his purpose to debar all such health seekers.

HEROICALLY SAVES TOWN.

Suffering intense agony from burns he received through the explosion of an immense tank of oil, Cash Allen, 28 years old, saved the village of Griffiths, Ind., from complete destruction by fire at midnight Saturday night by crawling to the Erie depot and sending in a telegraph call for help to Huntington and La Porte, Ind. Allen is the only telegraph operator in Griffiths, and is in charge of the Erie station, as well as of the Standard Oil Company's tanks and pipe lines at that point. Through the prompt arrival of aid from the neighboring towns, Laporte sending its fire department, the homes of 500 residents of the village were saved from the fire, although fifty acres were burned over and $50,000 damage done before the fire was under control.

RAILROAD RECORD.

ROADS BUSY ON RATE REVISING.

TO PUT ALL FARES ON TWO-CENT BASIS IS BIG TASK.

Reduction of Price of Railway Tickets to Uniform Schedule on Whole of Nation's Lines Will Result in Increased Travel and About Same Profit to Carriers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To revise the passenger rates between all points in the United States, reducing them to a basis of 2 cents per mile is the herculean task confronting the rate clerks of the railroads. Nearly every company has issued orders compelling the rate clerks to work day and night on the compilation of new tariffs in order to comply with the 2-cent fare laws of the various States.

The decision of the presidents of leading western roads not to try to maintain the basis of 3 cents per mile for interstate trips in view of the numerous State laws and the strong public sentiment in favor of 2 cents as the maximum rate per mile, means the compilation of thousands of new tariffs to be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission will undoubtedly authorize the railroads to put rates into effect as emergency rates as rapidly as they are compiled and filed, instead of requiring them to give thirty days' notice.

In advance of any change in general rates, rates between important commercial centers will be reduced first, then from those centers to smaller places, and finally between the smaller towns and settlements.

While nominally interstate rates are now made on a basis of 3 cents per mile, as a matter of fact, the average rate received by the railroads is a very small fraction over 2 cents per mile. This is due to the reduction of rates for conventions and other events to a basis of from 1 to 2½ cents per mile. My making 2 cents per mile the minimum as well as the maximum rate the railroads would earn as much as they do now from passenger traffic, if the volume remained unchanged.

PET DOG'S BITE BRINGS DEATH.

BANKER'S WIFE DIES FROM ACUTE HYDROPHOBIA.

Animal Snaps Woman's Hand While She Is Administering Chloroform, and, Although Wound Is Cauterized and Pasteur Institute Treats Her, End Comes in Three Weeks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Frederick J. Wilson, whose husband is connected with the Gallatin National Bank, died in her apartments in the Monroe, this afternoon, from being bitten by her pet dog about three weeks ago. She had been treated at the Pasteur Institute for about ten days, but was seized with acute symptoms of hydrophobia on Saturday and is said to have suffered intensely for twenty-four hours before her death.

One of the elevator boys in the Monroe and six or seven dogs in the neighborhood are said to have been bitten by Mrs. Wilson's dog before it was killed, and last night the residents of Morningside Heights were much excited over the matter.

Mrs. Wilson's dog was a small Scotch terrier, of which she was very fond, and it was allowed to mingle with the large number of dogs which have been running about Morningside Avenue West, unrestrained for several months. Some time ago the dog showed signs of ill temper and Mr. Wilson told his wife to have it killed. Not long ago she threatened to have a janitor discharged because he kicked at the dog when it snapped at him.

About three weeks ago the pet began to act even more strangely, and Mrs. Wilson took it to a dog hospital in Broadway, where she was told that it showed signs of rabies, and that it should be killed at once. Mrs. Wilson then consented to have it killed, and while assisting in administering chloroform the dog snapped her hand.

She went to St. Luke's Hospital where the wound was cauterized and she was advised to go at once to the Pasteur Institute. She was treated there for several days, but the poison, it is said, had become thoroughly distributed through her blood, and all efforts to save her failed after she was seized with convulsions last Saturday.

COURT-MARTIAL IS FINAL.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Separate instructions have been issued to the military authorities by the War Department in cases where there is possibility of civil jurisdiction over an offense committed by a soldier liable to court-martial.

The instructions are the outcome of the decision of the Supreme Court in what is known as "The Grafton case" in which it was held that, where the soldiers who did the shooting had been tried by court-martial for manslaughter, they could not afterward be tried by a civil court for either that offense or for the greater offense of murder.

GIRL KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Struck by Thunderbolt at Door Yard of Home.

Carried Unconscious Into House by Family.

All Efforts to Revive Her Prove Unavailing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mamie, the sixteen-year-old daughter of William Curl, was killed by lightning in the dooryard of her home, three miles up McCloud River from Baird, at 5 o'clock last night. A spectacular thunderstorm was raging and the young lady had been watching it from the window for some time, when, for what reason is not known, she opened the door and stepped out into the rain.

There was a deafening crash and a thunderbolt struck within a few feet of the unfortunate girl, throwing her unconscious to the ground.

Members of the family rushed out, picked her up and carried her into the house, but their desperate efforts to bring her back to consciousness were unavailing.

It is believed that death was instantaneous.

JEWELER LOSES GEMS.

RESTORED BY THEIR FINDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDDING, June 23. Adolph Dobrolsky, the Market street jeweler, lost a diamond ring and a few other articles of small value, a week ago Sunday, somewhere between Valley and Redding, while making the trip in his automobile. He did not discover the loss until he arrived in Redding a week ago Saturday. The valuables and other articles were restored to him Saturday evening by a jeweler in Willows to whom they had been given by the finder. They were known to Mr. Dobrolsky's, from the advertisement he had made.

SHIPS FIVE MILLIONS.

GOLDFIELD'S BANNER WEEK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GOLDFIELD, June 23.—Last week was a banner week for this district in ore producer. During the week ending June 20 ore shipped from the mines and leases amounted to 3000 tons valued at $5,000,000.

This does not include the picture ore that is stored away in the vaults of the mines for occasional shipment. This ore was included in the figures of total would be increased by fully $3,000. The figures are taken from the freight sheets of the railroad and the account records of the Nevada Reduction Works and include the known product of the combination mill. Many of the producing mines are at present working under a handicap but in a few weeks, with the installation of improved machinery and the [illegible] of facilities for handling ore, the output from these mines will be [illegible].

FIND HEBBARD UNFIT.

Committee Says Use of Intoxicants Demoralizes Him as Judge.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Judge W. H. Hebbard was found guilty by the grievance committee of the Bar Association yesterday of being grossly intemperate in his habits and of using intoxicating liquors to a degree that seriously impaired his mental capacity, rendering him unfit to perform his duties on the bench. The grievance committee will make its report to the Bar Association Monday and it will then be decided what action to take against Judge Hebbard.

Three courses are possible—either to wait until the next session of the Legislature and impeach him, or secure a transfer from Presiding Judge Coffey to assign any more cases to his court for trial. The latter course will probably have to be followed.

PREFERS U. S. ARMY.

German Officer Renounces Allegiance to the Fatherland to Remain in America.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Julius Vondemsee, formerly a lieutenant in the German army, who has figured in many love experiences, has renounced allegiance to Germany and joined the Second Battalion of Engineers at Fort Leavenworth.

Vondemsee arrived in this country from Germany last December on a three months' leave of absence from the German army. He liked things in this country, and decided to join the United States Army. His father, who was formerly a major-general in the German army, owns large factories in Chicago and Kenosha, Wash. He is a wealthy resident of Chicago.

Lieutenant Vondemmer is a thirty-second degree Mason. He speaks fourteen languages fluently. He said today that he had decided he would like the United States Army so well that he would not care to return to Germany.

SEATTLE, June 27.—Four teams from the Olympic Club of San Francisco won the Pacific athletic meet here yesterday, scoring 36 points. Seattle followed with 32, and Multnomah third, with 30. All events were keenly contested and Chandler of the Olympic Athletic Club won the Marathon in the fairly good time of 3lm. 40s., considering the condition of the course. Nelson was second and King of Irish A. A. of Seattle third.

POTATOES ON TOMATO VINE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
REDDING, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before is more blessed than a whole generation of politicians, how much more so must be he who causes two complete and different vegetables to grow on the same stalk, one under ground and the other above ground.
Such a feat has been accomplished by Dr. A. J. Wilder, a wealthy recluse who conducts many experiments in plant breeding on his farm near here. His latest achievement he calls a "pomato." It is a single plant with a tomato vine which produces full-sized fruit on the upper stem, and on the roots Irish potatoes as large as the average.
Dr. Wilder says he produced the strange freak after many experiments in mixing pollen and in the cross-grafting of plants.

NEW SCHEME TO IMPORT JAPS

TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES UNDERTAKE CONTRACT.

Plan Is to Bring the Orientals Into Mexico and Divide Them Into Small Groups at the Different Border Ports—Secret Service Agent Discovers the Plot.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
EL PASO (Tex.) June 22.—That a steamship company, operating between the Hawaiian Islands and the Mexican ports, and the railroads of Mexico have entered into a contract with a Japanese contractor to not only land in Mexico, but to guarantee entry into the United States of all classes of Japanese was asserted here by a Secret Service agent of the United States, who has just returned from a trip of investigation into Mexico.
He stated that the plan was to bring the Japanese into Mexico in large numbers and divide them into small groups at the different ports along the border. This, he says, accounts for the number of Japanese that have been for some months swarming to the border points.
Many of the Japanese are officers of the Japanese army and many wear medals. Japanese are being brought to Mexican ports by the thousands.

AGITATION IN JAPAN.
TOKIO, June 24.—Public excitement over the American question has almost passed away but agitation is still going on. It is mostly the word of the politicians of the opposition who are employing the question as a weapon of attack upon the ministry.
The Progressives and a coterie of politicians called the Daido Club, will likely join hands in a combined attack on the ministry over the American question, their principal aim being to thereby strengthen their respective positions in the coming election of local assemblies and also in the general election next year.
Their principal watchword is the diplomatic impotency of the Saionji Cabinet which has resulted, they say, in suffering to compatriots in America and in inability to receive treatment worthy the subjects of a first-class power.
It is difficult to foretell how far they can succeed in stirring up the public, but, whatever attempts are made in the way of agitation, actual hostilities with the United States are not even dreamed of. The war talk in some of the American newspapers is totally ignored here.

FOR RAILROAD INSPECTION.

President and Governors of Several States Are Asked to Aid Move to Make Travel Safer.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
KANSAS CITY, June 23.—President Roosevelt and the Governors of several States have been asked to aid the National Union of Railway Trackmen in a campaign for greater safety in railway travel. J. I. Sheppard of Fort Scott, Kan., secretary of the organization, yesterday sent out a letter addressed to the President and several Governors in which he says:
"If we can obtain the coöperation of all who should be interested, we will have as safe conditions for railway travel in our country as prevail in Europe. We certainly should have either government of State inspection of railway tracks. Some one should be held responsible to the people for keeping the tracks in proper shape and properly patrolled.
"It is a curious condition of affairs but it is true. We have State inspection of factories and mines, of beer, barbers, pharmacists and dentists; there is State control over the product of the busy bee and the farmer who raises wheat must pay a State inspection fee before he can market his grain. But there is now no law that is observed that provides for the inspection of railroad tracks."

BURN BOY AT STAKE.

Child Frightfully Injured by His Novel-reading Companions, "Playing Apache Indians."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WATERLOO (Iowa) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The unearthly screams of a boy this afternoon brought people to the rescue of David Phillips, a lad 7 years old, who had been tied hand and foot to a pump in an old stone quarry and was being burned to the stake by two boys, Leonard Horn, 12 years old, and William Hawkes, 11.
The boy's feet were so badly burned that it is believed he will be a cripple for life. Horn and Hawkes were speedily captured by the police and lodged in jail. They declare they were playing Apache Indians, and do not seem to appreciate the grave character of their misdeed. Both are said to be inveterate 5-cent novel readers.

SPAIN CONSIDERS EMIGRATION.
MADRID, June 23.—Señor Lacierva, Minister of the Interior, yesterday read the Emigration Bill in the House. The bill provides a system of inspection and gives the government power temporarily to forbid emigration. It also forbids recruiting emigrants by agencies. The government will negotiate treaties with neighboring powers to prevent clandestine emigration.

LABOR.

HAYWOOD NOW TO GET INNING.

Will Attempt to Prove Conspiracy Against Him.

Defenses' Contentions to Be Outlined Today.

Orchard to Be Denounced as Real Murderer.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
BOISE (Idaho) June 22.—William D. Haywood, having already pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder and having heard the evidence the State of Idaho has placed before the jury in support of its charges, will tomorrow morning assert his entire innocence and outline the evidence he proposes to produce in order that the presumption of innocence still resting in the mind of the jury may become a fixed judgment.
Clarence Darrow, as attorney for Haywood, will say that his client is not only not guilty of conspiracy to assassinate Frank Steuenberg, a former Governor of Idaho, but that Haywood is in fact the victim of a conspiracy to disrupt the Wesetrn Federation of, Miners, and, under the guise of legal procedure, condemn to death the chief officers of the federation of which Haywood is the secretary and one of his codefendants under the indictment is the president.
Mr. Darrow's address to the jury, presenting the outline of the evidence he propoes to introduce and the position he hopes to be able to prove, probably will take up the most of the day. Court meets at 10 o'clock and takes recess at noon. Mr. Darrow says that he expects his speech will occupy at least three hours and possibly more. It will be an exhaustive presentation.
It will be asserted that the conspiracy, as between Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone, Orchard and Adams, is a fabrication of Orchard's, who, in order to save his life, brought the others into it and that the price of the confession was the pardon of the actual murderer of Steunenberg. The motive of this murder, it will be asserted, is to benefit in Orchard's desperate poverty and that he saw his old partners in the Hercules mine rich and prosperous while he, a haunted criminal, robbed tills and attempted burglary in order to replenish his pocket.
The rebuttal testimony will take probably a week. The speeches and verdict may take the greater part of another, so that it is not thought that the conclusion will be reached before the end of July.

DEPENDS ON CLOWRY.
NATIONAL STRIKE IMPENDS.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The question as to whether there will be a general strike of telegraphers throughout the country depends on the action of Col. Robert C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The strike of the operators in San Francisco is looked upon as a local matter by the members of the Executive Committee of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, and they will do their best to keep it so under present conditions.
The situation in San Francisco, they say, was such that telegraphers there would not be satisfied with anything but a strike, and Samuel J. Small, president of the national organization, was in duty bound to call it.
An action which is awaited with great interest will take place tomorrow morning, when five men and four women, who were discharged because of their membership in the telegraphers' union, will walk into the main office of the Western Union and will ask for reinstatement. What Clowry will do is a matter of conjecture.
Should Col. Clowry refuse to reinstate the nine because of the San Francisco strike, the dismissed members will appeal to him for the appointment of a conference committee as provided for in the recent conference. Should Clowry still refuse a national strike might take place.

STORROR IS NOT UNEASY.

Postal Superintendent Predicts Telegraphers' Strike Will Cure Itself Within Few Days.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—L. W. Storror, general superintendent of the Postal company, today said:
"The Postal Telegraph Company has made no effort yet to employ nonunion telegraphers and its officials believe that the strike will cure itself. Strikes of operators generally do. Things will probably remain chaotic for a few days to come. Then telegraphers will begin to drift in from different outside points, and no trouble will be experienced in filling the places vacated. It will not take the union operators very long to realize the mistake they have made by striking and come back to us.
"We have already received a number of applications for places, but so far have not accepted any of them. The coming of other operators here I regard almost as certain, as a fixed natural law, and this and the defections that are bound to occur in the ranks of the strikers will ultimately end the trouble and bring about normal conditions again. I regard the strike as most unjustifiable and ill advised."
S. J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, said:
"The telegraphers of this country have it within their power to either bring the telegraph companies to terms or force governmental ownership of the telegraphs. We have decided to secure justice, first through conferences between employer and employé, and, if that fails, we will then start a national campaign in favor of government ownership, and at the same time have bills introduced in Congress and State legislatures having in view the improvement of the telegraph service. Two of the most important measures we expect to father and work to have passed are:
"Giving the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to regulate telegraph rates, and another requiring that both the filing and receiving time be shown on all telegrams."
"At present time the receiver of a telegram has no way of knowing how many hours a telegram has been en route."

MADE SURE OF DEATH.
PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fear that he would not succeed in his profession, caused Dr. Henry Schaefer Hutchinson, scion of a prominent Philadelphia family, and possessed of an independent income, to commit suicide.
Near the body was a glass vial labeled poison. Still sticking in the throat, in which a huge gash had been made, was a bloody razor. It is thought that Dr. Hutchinson had taken poison, and then lay down in the bushes and completed the job with the razor.

EIGHT PASSENGERS HURT.

Pennsylvania Freight Engine Crashes Into Dining-car on Siding—Two of Injured May Die.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SHARON (Pa.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight persons were injured, three of them dangerously, as the result of a Pennsylvania freight engine crashing into the company's combination dining and sleeping car on a siding today.
Those taken to the hospital were: Millie Pitts, Frank Brown, Anthony Gallagher, Jack Barnett, W. J. Riley, Rose Scott, E. J. Johnson, and Steward Diews. Miss Pitts, Brown and Gallagher may not recover.
The car was hurled on its side at right angles to the track and split in two. That none was killed is regarded as remarkable, as several were buried under the débris.
The accident was caused by the air brakes failing to work.

FRESNO LAWYER ARRESTED.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—J. F. Upson of Oakland obtained a warrant from Police Judge Cabanniss today for the arrest of Henry Brickley, a Fresno attorney, on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.
Brickley was arrested in this city by Detectives Mitchell and Cornelius, and released on $50 bail.
Upson, who has been known to the police here for years as a dealer in lottery tickets, was arrested in Fresno county on a charge of vagrancy. He said he employed Brickley and paid him $75, on January 27, on his assurance that he had arranged with Presiding Judge Cooper of the Appellate Court to issue a writ of habeas corpus requiring the Sheriff of Fresno county to bring Upson before that court. Upson alleges that no such writ was applied for by Brickley.

INDIANS HELP MISSION WORK.

White Chief Chivers Tells of Good Red Men.

School and Church of Great Benefit to Crows.

Big Baptist Meeting Hears Other Noted Men.

It was a sort of Baptist symposium that was given the afternoon assemblage of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday at Choral Hall, Temple Auditorium. Dr. E. E. Chivers, the preacher, and white Indian chief, was the feature.

Dr. Robert J. Burdette introduced the speakers and made a short address; Dr. Graves, the veteran Baptist evangelist, spoke briefly; Rev. Frank E. Cressey, pastor of the East Side Baptist Church, read the scriptures; Rev. Edwin Ransome Brown, assistant pastor of Temple Baptist Church offered prayer, and Evangelist J. Q. A. Henry, Baptist evangelist, made an address, followed by Dr. Chivers, field secretary for the American Baptist Home Missionary Society.

With such an array of Baptists it is scarcely necessary to add that the meeting was far from being a dry one.

Dr. Burdette introduced the venerable Dr. Graves as "a man who went about even in my boyhood days planting Baptist churches and holding revival meetings wherever he could find sinners and water."

Dr. Graves spoke of his work in the evangelistic field. Said he:

"I have been fifty-six years in the ministry, and for more than forty years an evangelist. I have watched the various religious movements everywhere, and have studied the trend of the times of the past; and this is my deep-rooted conviction: there never was a time when there was such a soul-hungering after Christ and the things for which Christ's teachings stand as there is today. I've given up, long since, the idea of living a Christian life to keep out of hell; what I want to do is to live a Christian life for the love of Christ."

In closing his brief address Dr. Graves stated that yesterday was his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary.

WHITE CHIEF TALKS.

Dr. Chivers, who has spent much time among the Indian tribes of the Northwest, gave an interesting account of how the Christian religion was brought to the Crow Indians through his instrumentality, and of the good work being done by the Baptist schools among these Indians today.

"I shall have my reward," he said, "if today I succeed through this narrative in deepening your sympathies and interest in these children of the forest, who have been pushed back and back and back, as civilization advanced, until they have received scant justice, and in deepening your faith in the religion of Jesus Christ as able to save and keep all peoples," said the speaker.

He then entered into a detailed story of how the first Baptist school was instituted on the Crow reservation in Montana, after the government schools had found much difficulty in reaching these peculiar people. He told of the conversion of the Kiowa Indians and of their influence on the Crows, until finally, a letter reached him from the Crow reservation, signed by the leaders of thetribe, asking that he go to them to establish a school.

"When I went to Lodge Grass Ment.," he continued, "I was met by a company of the Crow Indians, gay with paint and feathers and their brightest blankets, and taken to a tepee in their settlement. I spent several days in investigating general conditions, and was impressed by the absence of children. It was explained to me that as soon as they reached the age of 5 years they were all taken away, and placed in the government Indian school, twenty-five miles distant.

FOND OF PAPPOOSES.

"At this the Indians rebelled, and I could but sympathize with them. I bear witness to you that these Indians love their little children as dearly as any white parents love their children, and there is little wonder that they resented the reaching out of the governmental hand and taking out of their home life the little ones.

"I made up my mind right there that there is something wrong about this system. That is no true uplift that does not uplift the home. The grave difficulty was that when these young Indians returned from the government school to their homes they found the same conditions existing as were there before they went away, and their return to the lower level of life was inevitable.

"We determined that the solution lay in the establishment of day schools in the neighborhood, so that the children might be kept in their homes, and that thus the influence of the school could have a direct bearing on the home life of each Indian family. As supplementary to this we determined upon the establishment of a district missionary's home in their midst, to encourage by precept and example and to inculcate the living principles of Christianity."

INDIANS AID IN WORK.

Dr. Chivers told of the difficulties encountered in securing the indorsement of the government officials to the proposed innovation, and then detailed step by step the progress made. He told of the gift to the school of a quarter-section of land by a pagan Indian for a school site; of the eagerness of the Indians to go to the woods to cut logs and draw them down for the building; of their many acts of appreciation, and of the success of the school when it was opened and the Indians were simply put upon their honor to send their children regularly to the teacher.

At the end of the year, out of the thirty-one children assigned to the school twenty-nine were in attendance, one was sick of a fever, and one had a broken arm.

Dr. Chivers told many interesting personal experiences in the work; detailing how he was adopted into the Crow tribe and made a distinct chief, and then a chief of the whole tribe, in honor of his work in establishing the schools and getting the Indian children back into their homes.

He dwelt upon the faithfulness of the Indians to vows of Christian life they had taken, and upon the uplift that had come to the whole reservation through the agencies of the school and the church.

His work as field secretary for the Baptists takes him into all parts of the United States, but he has an especial interest in the work among the Indians. At the present time the Baptist Home Missionary Society is teaching and preaching Christianity in sixteen Indian dialects, and in twenty-three foreign tongues in the United States. A fund of $150,000 was raised during the past year for an extension of the work among the Indians, and Dr. Chivers goes north this week to hold a conference with other leaders of the church to determine where this fund shall be apportioned.

AGED PREACHER PASSES.

Death Comes to Rev. Edward Hildreth, Congregational Minister, After Long Illness.

Rev. Edward Hildreth, a Congregational preacher, who had made his home in Los Angeles since 1889, died yesterday morning at his residence, No. 357 South Hope street. He had been an invalid for many years, and had suffered much during the past few months. He was well known to Congretionalists in Los Angeles and was well beloved.

When first he came to California, Rev. Hillreth settled in Santa Barbara, where he lived until coming to Los Angeles. He was born in Sterling, Mass., in 1833, and was in his seventy-fourth year when he died. As a young man he entered the Chicago Theological Seminary and was graduated with honors.

The first appointment which the young minister received was at Wabasha, Wis. Before taking up his duties as pastor he was married to Miss Geraldine Carpenter. He served the Wabasha Congregational Church for five years, when he was obliged to resign because of ill health. He then removed with his wife to Colorado Springs.

Though he traveled far in search of health, Rev. Hildreth was unable to take up again the duties of a pastorate. In 1895 he suffered a great bereavement in the death of his beloved wife, who passed away in this city.

Two sons, Philo Carpenter Hildreth of Colorado Springs, and Edward Theodore Hildreth of Boston, Mass., and two daughters Faith and Geraldine Hildreth, who reside in Los Angeles, are the remaining members of the family. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

FOUND AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

CHILDREN, SUPPOSED DEAD, ARE LIVING HERE.

New York Mother Coming to Rejoin Son and Daughter Taken from Her in Their Infancy—Happy Ending Promised to Tragic Story of a Woman's Unhappiness.

Mrs. Charles W. Foster of No. 145 West Twenty-third street, New York City, is on her way to Los Angeles to rejoin her children, whom she has not seen for twenty years. She supposed her children were dead until, last Christmas, a marriage notice in a California newspaper excited her curiosity. She investigated and a romance was unfolded.

Twenty-five years ago, when Mrs. Foster was a girl of 15, she ran away and married Augustus J. Hill, one of Holyoke's (Mass.) prosperous merchants. After five years of happiness, her husband deserted her, leaving her with a son 3 years old and a daughter of 15 months.

As she was penniless, her husband's parents took upon themselves the care of the children until the mother should obtain employment, and they were sent to the Hill homestead, in the village of Burke, Franklin county, N. Y.

The mother went to Fitchburg, Mass. When she returned for a visit, her husband's family did not receive her kindly. She was told that her children were visiting relatives. They did not tell her where, and, with her limited means, she was unable to make a search for them.

Mrs. Foster stayed in Massachusetts with the determination to make a home for herself and the children. She worked for a year, frequently inquiring of the Hill family concerning the children. She never received a satisfactory reply.

After a time she wrote to announce her intention of taking her children with her to Fitchburg. In answer she received a letter saying that the children had died of scarlet fever. Grief stricken, she wrote for particulars, but received no reply.

Upon communication with the postmaster of Burke, she learned that the Hills had removed to the West. She inquired as to the burial place of her children, but no one knew. No death records or burial certificates could be found.

Because of the mystery there was always a hungering hope in her mind that the children were still living.

As she never heard from her husband, she obtained a divorce, and nine years ago she married Charles W. Foster of New York, who instituted a search for the children. Detectives were employed, and advertisements inserted in newspapers, but without results. Mrs. Foster finally gave up hope.

Last December one of Mr. Foster's California friends sent him a Christmas present wrapped in a copy of the Los Angeles Times. In looking over the paper, Mrs. Foster's eye was attracted by the marriage notice of Miss Caroline Hill to Robert W. Sturgis.

Caroline was the name of her supposedly dead daughter. Mrs. Foster wrote to Mrs. Sturgis and was amazed to find that the latter had a brother, Floyd Hill, two years her senior. The children had been told that their mother had died in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Sturgis is the wife of a business man of Los Angeles, and she will soon have the pleasure of greeting her mother after the twenty years' separation.

NOT DRUGGED, BUT DRUNK.

Girl Found at South Main Street House Admits Carousing With Male Companion.

Facing a probable arraignment in the Police Court, this morning, on a charge of drunkenness, "Margaret Curran" or "Mabel Gilman," stubbornly refused yesterday to prosecute Harry Boggs, who was held in jail on suspicion of having drugged her. Boggs was released yesterday afternoon. The girl is in the custody of the matron. She has done everything in her power to hide her identity.

The police believe the girl came here from San Francisco. It is said that she has a brother in that city who is wealthy.

As far as can be learned the young woman bears a good reputation. She is said to have worked as a bookkeeper for the Los Angeles Lithographic Company. No one called at the station to see her. She says she has lived in Los Angeles for a year and a half.

The girl was found Saturday night in the Rennie House, at No. 510½ South Main street, and was taken to the Receiving Hospital. She was suffering from the effects of what at first was thought to be a powerful drug. Yesterday she admitted that she had been drinking with Boggs.

The landlady of the Rennie House refused to give any information concerning the girl, stating that she must protect her patrons. The police say they will watch the house.

WHIRLWIND WOOING WINS.

Pretty Widow Captured by Southern Colonel.

Delightful Culmination of Campaign of Years.

Minister Responds to Hurry Call in Auto.

A change of tactics and a whirlwind campaign won for Col. Francis B. Hull of Jackson, Miss., a charming bride in the person of Mrs. Isabella D. Rodgers, club woman and writer of New York City. The wedding was solemnized at the Hotel Lankershim on the shortest kind of notice. Col. Hull had persistently wooed the attractive widow for a number of years. Although he ardently pressed his suit, she had always deferred giving her answer.

The gallant colonel, who saw service in the Civil War, finally became desperate and hastened to this city. He massed all his force of arguments and marched them against the pretty widow, who surrendered. The knot was tied by Rev. Bert Estes Howard in one of the private apartments of the hotel.

Only a few near relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The minister arrived in an automobile on a hurry call, thinking it might be a matter of life or death. There was no time for elaborate preparations or stunning toilets. The simple ritual said, Col. Hull whirled his bride away to begin a honeymoon that, he gallantly said, would last for the remainder of their lives.

ONLY ONE CONCESSION.

The only concession he would make to the dictates of fashion was to take his bride to a wedding dinner at one of the downtown hotels, Mrs. Harry A. Rodgers, a daughter-in-law of the bride, being hostess.

Col. and Mrs. Hull make an automobile trip through the mountains and later, spend several months abroad.

Mrs. Hull knew the colonel in her childhood days. She, too is a Southerner, and although she has lived in New York many years, she cherishes a deep respect for the gallant men of her native section.

Although considerably older than herself, Col. Hull is a fine type of a gentleman, with literary tastes and successful in business. The two were very congenial and friendship changed to love, on the colonel's part at least, several years ago.

The widow at first pleaded that she must care for her fatherless children. Her son grew to manhood and became a successful business man. Her daughter, Viola Rodgers, showed talent as a writer and was soon making a name for herself as a correspondent for a number of papers. She is now in London writing for a New York paper. A cablegram yesterday announced her mother's sudden marriage.

KNOWS NOT DEFEAT.

And while the widow put off her lover on various pretexts, he still made love in his courtly way. "We are too old to wed," Mrs. Hull is quoted as saying to the colonel. "Our romance period was over long ago. Let us be friends."

Some men might have taken this as final, but not so the colonel. He kept on building modern structures in various parts of the country, and also kept up a vigorous correspondence with the woman he loved.

When he learned of the widow's trip to California to see her son and daughter-in-law, he straightway gave up some very important business contracts and hastened to this city. Arrived, his tactics changed. Now it was "must" and "shall." The inevitable happened.

The sudden culmination of this romance will prove interesting in society circles in this city, as well as in New York and in many southern cities, where Col. Hull is well known.

FATHER ADAM COMING "HOME."

VENERABLE CATHOLIC PRELATE BOUND THIS WAY.

After Eight Years' Absence in Spain, Whither He Went to Pass Remaining Days, Sails for New York and Soon Will Reach Los Angeles for Extended Stay.

Catholics of Los Angeles and of Southern California will rejoice to learn that the venerable Father Joaquin Adam, now bearing the title of Monsignor, is to return from Spain to his former field of activities about the first of July. He sailed yesterday from Queenstown for New York, and will come at once to Los Angeles.

He will spend the summer here, and possibly longer, and there will be ample opportunity for his host of friends to give him a personal greeting.

For many years Father Adam made a deep impression on the spiritual affairs of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, and his acquaintance and warm personal friendship extends from one end of the diocese to the other—a territory reaching from San Diego to Monterey.

He is now in his seventieth year, and has not been in active service for the past eight years. He was ordained for service in this diocese, and after several minor appointments was placed in charge of the church at Santa Cruz, where he served for many years.

In 1852 he was made Vicar General of the diocese and came to Los Angeles where his broader activities began. In 1859 he laid aside the duties of the vicar generalship and went to Spain with the intention of remaining there for the remainder of his days.

But the lure of California and the love of the many strong friendships here is once again bringing this aged servant of the church across the ocean.

Father Adam is accompanied by Rev. P. Hawe, pastor of the Catholic Church at Santa Monica, who has been making a pilgrimage to Rome and a tour of European countries. Father Hawe will take the beloved visitor to his seaside home for a rest, and Father Adam will then come to Los Angeles and become the guest of Mgr. P. Harnett, present vicar general of the diocese, who succeeded Father Adam when the latter went to Spain.

BANKER'S SON TO TRAVEL.

With Companion Will Visit Cities of Europe—Trip Taken for Health's Sake.

J. A. Graves, Jr., son of J. A. Graves of Alhambra, will leave this morning for an all-summer cruise of the Mediterranean. His traveling companion will be his chum, Orwyn W. E. Cook, a junior in the University of Southern California. During the past year they have spent their forenoons together, Cook tutoring his friend. One of their studies has been a course in European and ancient history, and now they are being sent by Mr. Graves, Sr., who is vice-president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, to see the historic places they have become acquainted with in books.

The trip will be of the greatest benefit to both young men. Mr. Cook, in addition to his college work, and his tutoring, has been the pastor of Chatsworth for the past year. He is preparing for social settlement work, and will take especial interest in visiting European cities.

Mr. Graves is in delicate health, which, it is expected, will be much improved by travel.

BAKERS OF ROME ON STRIKE.

ROME, June 23.—The government having postponed consideration of a bill prohibiting night work, the bakers yesterday declared a general strike throughout Italy.

DOCTOR'S FOOD TALK

Selection of Food One of the Most Important Acts in Life.

A Mass. doctor says: "Our health and physical and mental happiness are so largely under our personal control that the proper selection of food should be, and is one of the most important acts in life.

"On this subject, I may say that I know of no food equal in digestibility, and more powerful in point of nutriment, than the modern Grape Nuts, four heaping teaspoons of which is sufficient for the cereal part of a meal, and experience demonstrates that the user is perfectly nourished from one meal to another.

"I am convinced that the extensive and general use of high class foods of this character would increase the term of human life, add to the sum total of happiness and very considerably improve society in general. I am free to mention the food, for I personally know of its value."

Grape-Nuts food can be used by babes in arms, or adults. It is ready cooked, can be served instantly, either cold with cream, or with hot water or hot milk poured over. All sorts of puddings and fancy dishes can be made with Grape-Nuts. The food is concentrated and very economical, four heaping teaspoons are sufficient for the cereal part of a meal. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Baldwin Refrigerators for Government Hospitals

...Twenty-Second Year...

The Baldwin Refrigerator Company has been notified that its proposal to furnish the U. S. public health and marine hospital service with refrigerators for the current fiscal year has been accepted, making the twenty-second consecutive year that this important branch of the government service has adopted the Baldwin dry air refrigerator for use in all its hospitals and quarantine stations. So highly were these refrigerators regarded by the surgeons and stewards as far back as 1884-1885, that one of them was included in the government exhibit at world's exposition, New Orleans, marked "Standard refrigerator for hospital use."—Burlington Free Press, August 18, 1906.

HE STEPS ON WINE GLA

Groom so Shows Supreme in Household.

Kisses for Husband as Well as Pretty Bride.

With all the peculiar ceremonials of an orthodox Hebrew marriage, Dr. Solomon and Miss Lillian Benjamin were united yesterday afternoon at Alhambra Hall, Fraternal Brotherhood building.

Rabbi Isidore Meyers performed the ceremony, the bridal couple and their attendants standing beneath the richly embroidered wedding canopy, or "chuffa," which was supported by standards held by Bennie Harris, Meyer Henig, Herman Block and Joe Rappeport. The men of the company all wore their hats, in accordance with the usage of the orthodox Hebrew, who always remain covered at a religious ceremony.

The hall was well filled with guests. The stage had been decorated with potted palms and transformed into a representation of a beautiful garden scene. In the center of this was the wedding canopy.

An orchestra played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the party entered from an adjoining room. First came the parents of the bridegroom, then the parents of the bride. The bridegroom followed, supported on either side by his attendants, Herman and David Benjamin, brothers of the bride. Last of all came the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Dora Solomon, and the bridesmaid, Miss Selma Bromberger.

The bride was gowned in a white French novelty over satin, with full train. She wore the long veil, caught with clusters of lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Miss Colomon were white net over white silk and carried white carnations. Miss Bromberger's costume was white crepe de chine over silk, and she carried a bouquet of carnations.

Then there was a trio of pretty little flower girls, gowned in white, with trimmings of blue ribbons. They were Beatrice Levi and Herta and Pearl Weinstein.

The impressive ceremonies of the Jewish ritual were conducted by Rabbi Meyers, who intoned the Psalms in Hebrew, chanted the invocations, and then, both in English and Hebrew, propounded to the principals of the ceremony the usual questions as to their ability to assume the vows of matrimony.

Taking a glass of wine, the rabbi offered it first to the bridegroom, and then to the bride, signifying that henceforth they pledged themselves to one common life. After the usual declaration of both bride and groom, Rabbi Meyers handed the wedding ring to the bridegroom who, in both Hebrew and English, repeated, as he placed the band of gold on the bride's finger:

"Be thou my wife according to the law of Moses and the Israelites."

Rabbi Meyers then gave an address on the sanctity of the marriage relation, concluding with a formal declaration that the couple before him were husband and wife.

Immediately after the rabbi made the announcement, the wine glass was placed on the floor before the couple, and the bridegroom, with determination crushed it with his foot, the guests applauding. This settled his supremacy in the new household—for it is said that should the bride happen to be quicker than her spouse in crushing the glass, henceforth she would hold the reins of government.

The congratulations by the relatives included kisses not only for the pretty bride, but for the bridegroom as well.

For the grand march from Alhambra to the banquet hall in the basement the orchestra played Lohengrin's "Wedding March." The company formed in line behind the bridal party, and after several circles of the hall descended to the beautifully appointed tables.

Tables were laid for 150 guests, the dinner being served in true "Kosher" style. S. Benjamin, uncle of the bride, acted as toastmaster, and there were numerous speeches and much merriment.

At 11:30 o'clock last evening Mr. and Mrs. Solomon departed for a wedding trip. They will visit San Francisco and other northern points, and will be at home after August 1 at No. 1048 Flower street.

Mr. Solomon is a prosperous young business man of Los Angeles, being a member of the tailoring firms known as the Kansas City Tailors, and the United States Tailoring Company. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Benjamin of No. 251 Hope street.

Plans for the development of a new subdivision, to be known as St. Vincent College tract, have been perfected by the Los Angeles Investment Company, and involve an expenditure of nearly $1,500,000. The tract is in the southwest section of the city, at the corner of Vernon avenue, Gramercy and Wilton Place, and Arlington avenue, and is within twenty-three minutes of the business center, by the Grand avenue car line. The tract has been platted into 450 lots of good size, on which the company reports that it intends to erect modern, moderate-priced dwellings. Four business buildings, each containing five stores, will also be built. The houses, mostly of the bungalow type, will contain from five to eight rooms, and will be fifty feet from the curb line. The cost of the houses ranges from $2000 to $5000. To carry out its plans in connection with the St. Vincent College tract, the company will increase its capital from $1,100,000 to $2,000,000.

Fresh from Triumphs in Great Britain, He Plans Stirring Religious Campaign in This City—Preaches at First Baptist Church and Urges "Getting Close to God."

Rev. John Q. A. Henry, a prominent evangelist, yesterday morning opened what promises to be a stirring religious campaign. He preached in the First Baptist Church to a large congregation. At the opening of his address he outlined his plans. He is fresh from triumphs in Great Britain, where he has spent the past five years, and has met with signal success.

Rev. Mr. Henry is a magnetic speaker. He is short and stocky, has a piercing eye, and looks straight at his hearers while he talks. He has a habit of holding his eyeglasses in his hand as he talks. Yesterday morning he dropped the glasses from the rostrum to the floor. A little maid in the audience handed them to the evangelist, who continued his address without interruption.

The evangelist used a number of quotations from the Bible as the foundation for an inspiring address. The keynote was love, and the preacher urged church members to "get close to God." He declared that without a "personal experience" it is impossible to become a "soul winner."

"This morning I present to you the greatest work in the world," he continued. "It is not necessary for me to dwell on the greatness of this work beyond mentioning the fact that Christ came into this world that the tidings of salvation might be told to every people. For this work the disciples were consecrated, and to this work Christ is calling you. As you look over the world you will see men who have given, and are giving their means, their time and their talents to this great work. Little by little the kingdom of God is gaining power on earth.

"George Fox once said that every Quaker should shake the country for ten miles around. Dr. Lyman Beecher, as he lay dying, said: 'The greatest thing in the world is to save men.' To win men to God is the greatest work of the world.

"It's a vain thing to talk to men and women of Jesus Christ unless one knows the Savior of men personally. It's important that we should know the plan of salvation. It is far more important that we know Christ, not simply as an example, but that we know Him as our Savior.

"Passionate love for the will of God is fundamental. God wills that none should perish. Jesus Christ tasted death for all men.

"What does sanctification mean? Life at its best. That every faculty should be brought to its fullness of power. God wants your best. He wants you to be utterly saved that you may reach the highest pinnacle of perfection. God desires the mental and spiritual recovery of every individual.

"I remember a night in London when eighty-seven people entered the inquiry room, and wanted to become Christians. Eighty-seven workers were on their knees beside the penitents. When I entered that place I knew we were not far from heaven.

"If we love the will of God, and the word of God, then we will love the Son of God. It is impossible to conceive of a man or woman enjoying a personal experience with Christ without being a soul winner. Closely associated with love for God will be a passionate love for the souls of men. We love men because God loves them, and has planned their redemption. There must be wonderful possibilities in every human soul for God to have planted the cross on Calvary for man's salvation.

"At the battle of Waterloo, Wellington rode along the firing line of the gallant Eighty-fifth Regiment and said: 'Hold your ground; there is no one behind you.' If we hesitate, others will halt. If we hold, we shall be able to shock the world out of its lethargy. We've got to love men and women into the kingdom."

J. R. Hemminger, who is the singing colleague of Dr. Henry, sang at both morning and evening services. He has organized a chorus choir, which will sing at the series of meetings.

Pen Points

The "unwhipped mob" will get what's coming to it yet.

What Gen. Funston said is nothing to what he would if the necessity arose.

The political news from Russia indicates that the grand dukes haven't quit drinking.

An exchange states that the kiss was invented in India. Through an inspiration from heaven, doubtless.

The only credit that Harry Orchard can claim for himself is that he is no molly coddle.

Diamonds having been found in Indiana, we may yet hope to see poets wearing them.

We don't believe it would do San Francisco any good to have six Mayors, let alone two.

Another question hard to answer at the present writing is "Why is Rudolph Spreckels?

The Spreckels family have usually had a knack of using the public for a cat's-paw.

Why not make Gen. Funston Mayor of San Francisco? Peace and prosperity would soon follow.

"Who is Mayor of San Francisco?" All the other conundrums must wait 'till this one is answered.

A man is soon to start for the North Pole in a balloon, and yet nobody seems to take an interest in it.

Now we hear of a rival to Standard Oil in the copper business. If it really proves to be a rival it won't last long.

If Japan will agree to gag Count Okuma we will do what we can to turn Hobson's mind into some other channel.

"Long Island is infested with pirates," says a dispatch. Reference is probably made to literary pirates, merely.

For a man who is in jail and not in very good health, Mayor Schmitz seems to be taking a great interest in municipal affairs.

The Knox boom has received its quietus. It is indorsed by the New York Times, a paper that hasn't picked a winner in generations.

If San Francisco could pull itself together and get out a declaration of independence on the Fourth, it wouldn't need a parade.

It is certain that the trouble in France is caused by wine, but to what extent women and song have also contributed can only be guessed at.

The man who keeps the grocery store located under the executive offices at Oyster Bay must sell an awful lot of chewing tobacco and stogies.

The Japanese jingoes in Tokio blame the San Francisco trouble on the Emperor of Germany. They probably got him mixed up with Emperor Rudolph.

It is strange that San Francisco desires to celebrate the Fourth of July, anyway. The town does not seem to have a speck of the Fourth of July spirit left in it.

The United States having paid China some money we owed her, the impression may gain ground in the Orient that an American is almost as honest as a Chinaman.

The president of the Big Four says the railroads have more than they can take care of. They certainly seem to have had more passengers than they could take care of.

What is needed is a scheme to induce college graduates to help the farmers market their crops this year. After that they can go ahead and set the world on fire if they want to.

We have nothing against Mr. Heney. All we have done is to call attention to the fact that a hunter with such a great reputation ought to be able to show more notches on his gun stock.

One by one the southern newspapers are following the lead of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and are turning against Mr. Bryan. The peerless leader shows signs of soon becoming the leaderless peer.

It is given out from Ottawa that President Roosevelt will go game hunting in Canada after his term of office has expired. But whether it is the end of this term or the next that's meant has not been stated.

"The Russian delegation presented a petition on the subject of the opening of hostilities," says a dispatch from The Hague peace conference. Russia had a hard dose of that when Japan struck her without warning.

Funston may be said to have intimated that if he could parade his troops the way he would like to, women and children could walk the streets of San Francisco without running any risk of brickbats and insults.

The Financial World is authority for the statement that John D. Rockefeller has received $104,530,000 in dividends from the Standard Oil Company during the past nine years. It is also said that his original investment in the enterprise was something like $126. Would you say that he earned all this money, or that he made it, or that he just got it by luck?

LABOR-UNIONISM AT THE BAR OF JUDGMENT.

The Times has never had a word to say against the right of labor to organize. Moreover, this paper has always recognized that the majority of those in the labor unions are not at heart evil-minded, or inclined to make unnecessary trouble. But it is indisputable that many of them do not see clearly the line which separates right from wrong, and that many more are not strong of character enough to brave the ridicule and defy the menacing attitude of the evil-minded fellows who control these organizations.

The rasher, more ignorant, more vicious and extremely radical unionites decry their employers, scoff at the rights of others which the laws recognize, incite to trouble, plot to call strikes on demands for concessions which unchangeable economic laws make impossible; while those who know the demands are preposterously impossible and unjust are not brave enough to get up and make a fight for what their better judgment counsels.

The whole system of labor-unionism is now on trial. If the clamorous walking delegates go on their own way and the unions follow, the industries of the world are brought to a halt. That result cannot come. The world is not ready to come to an end yet. Civilization has never gone backward. Society always sweeps out of its way any obstacle which tries to stay its progress.

The proper course to follow would be for the honest wage-earners in labor organizations to "screw their courage to the sticking point" and announce to the "leaders" that the mass will not follow. The dog can refuse to permit the tail to wag the dog if it is much of a dog. If the men will stand up and say: "Howling scab and coward does not make us such, and is no argument. Cease your coarse vituperation. Get down to reason and conduct yourselves as men. If you will neither cease hurling insulting epithets, nor, like reasonable and decent men, show respect for us and reasons for following you, then get out of your offices and go to work, and let wiser and better men conduct our affairs."

If such a course were taken there would be no longer antagonism on the part of the industrial world and society in general to these labor organizations. Nor would there be rancorous disputes, strikes and all the concomitant horrors of strikes. Labor and capital, employer and employé, would become what the natural laws of economy intend them to be, partners in all enterprises. Industrial peace would reign. All men's just rights would be respected, and prosperity would make happy the home of the wage-earner and of the wage-payer in due measure to both.

If labor unions do not reform themselves, learn what the eternal laws of justice and the fundamental laws of political economy are, then society will take the matter up and the controversy between it and walking delegates will not be long, nor the result in doubt for a day. Society will take the agitator to represent labor-unionism as a whole, and it will have to get out of the way and out of the world.

The method will be so simple, so effective, so prompt! The "labor union leader" says: "No man shall work unless he wears the totem badge. No goods shall be bought or sold which are not stamped with the same mark of slavery. Those who own an industrial plant shall hire such men as we supply, and discharge no man without our consent. Nor shall these men have any word to say about wages, hours or other conditions in their mills and shops. We will dictate how much shall be paid for all work, what time the bell shall ring to call the men to work, and when they shall quit." The answer of society will be: "Your programme is both unjust and impossible. We will hire hereafter no man who is a member of any union. We will exact a pledge and enforce it by a penalty that our employés shall never join any union, that they will submit all complaints to us in person, and as individuals. We will use nothing henceforth and forever that comes from any factory or mill employing union labor of any kind."

The Times believes that the most reliable sources of news as to industrial enterprises are the headquarters of those enterprises and the managers of the same. The Times will continue to seek for facts pertaining to these enterprises from their captains. Let the yellow dog press continue to get its news from the curs, blatherskites, walking delegates, grafters and camp followers. And let the comparatively small number of people in this community who elect to read yellow-dog newspapers and absorb their virus continue to do so.

CAN'T PULL WOOL OVER THEIR EYES.

The Boston wool buyer embodies about all the Yankee shrewdness there is going. He has been a conspicuous summer figure in the West for many years. San Francisco thirty years ago was one of his familiar "stamping grounds." His arrival in the city made much commotion along King street and other thoroughfares near the Southern Pacific freight sheds below the famous corner of Fourth and Townsend street. The wool clip of California is not what it was in those days, and San Francisco is not the wool market it was.

Helena, Mont., is a center where the wool grower of the West and the wool buyer of the East meet now and try western energy against Yankee wit. One Montana sheep man has finished shearing and his "clip" is about 1,500,000 pounds of wool. He has sold the whole of it to one Boston buyer for the biggest half of $500,000. The price is 22 cents a pound, three-fourths of a cent more than the same buyer paid for the same "clip" of a little less weight a year ago. This is "grease" wool and will shrink in scouring probably 60 per cent., maybe more. California wools shrink as much as 75 per cent. If the shrinkage is as assumed here, it means 55 cents a pound for scoured wool in Helena, and with freight, profit to the wholesale dealer and other expenses added, the wool will cost the manufacturer close to 75 cents a pound.

This prompt sale of so large a "clip" at so good a price indicates that the shrewd Boston wool buyer, who knows conditions in business at the East so well, does not look for any stagnation in the woolen industry.

So long as western men receive such checks for the product of their farms there will not be any very severe stagnation out this way. The Helena man is more than likely to take a big slice of this money, put his family into a Pullman, and hustle down here to the seaside to get away from the heat of the torrid plains.

ROADS AND RIVERS.

Few more picturesque figures have made a hole in the sunshine in eastern cities in a generation than that of old Ezra Meeker, the Webfoot pioneer. Meeker has been an interesting character in Oregon and Washington for more than half a century. He crossed the continent in 1851 by the old "Oregon trail," and has spent the intervening fifty-six years in the Northwest. The journey was by ox-team, and traversed a rugged wilderness where scarcely a human being excepting wild Indians was encountered west of the Missouri River. The outposts of civilization, already planted at a few points on the Columbia and Willamette rivers and on Puget Sound, were weak, consisting of a score of American families here and there.

This early pioneer has just made the return trip over the same old trail. He set out a year and a half ago, and as he went along he induced the people at various points to erect a monument to mark the course. In due time he reached his old home in Indianapolis, where he took a rest for his weary old bones. Meeker's mind needed no rest. It is as active, vigorous and enterprising as a boy's. Resting his body, his mind conceived a dream, more enticing than the one which set him adrift in the world half a century ago to seek his fortunes in a far-away, unknown land. He has gone on to Oyster Bay to see President Roosevelt and try to shape his dream into reality.

The scheme in which he seeks to enlist the sympathy of the President is to get the old trail made into a great national highway, passable for everything on wheels, and free to all comers. From the Mississippi River the old Cumberland Pike road might be followed to the Atlantic Coast. The Federal government constructed this pike nearly 100 years ago, at least in part. It was built across the Alleghanies.

There is a great deal of practical sense in this dream of the grizzled old pioneer. The automobile is a new force in the economics of our day. Canals are an old economic force, and rivers were the first medium of commerce between distant points. The history of roads of various kinds would be the history of civilization, of commerce, and of industries. The course of civilization, of commerce, of industrial development, was always along rivers or across seas. All roads have finally led to streams or seaports.

It may seem like going backward in civilization to build turnpike roads, but it is not. The motion is decidedly forward. The automobile in its various forms contains the suggestion to return to this most primitive way of transporting goods. On a perfect road, a well-constructed vehicle, propelled by mechanical device, driven by power, will carry a very heavy load. With a few good roads across a wide strip of territory, touching natural streams here and there, the problem of transportation would be partly solved. With a system of canals connecting the natural streams and with branch roads constructed by community interest, the problem would be practically settled.

Let private effort run the railroad enterprises of the country under proper government supervision, and let private capital alone in the operation of great lines of steamships. But give the public a complete system of good roads and of water transportation along natural streams and canals, and the railroads will behave. The construction of a system of roads and the improvement of the rivers are well within the power of the government. States can join with the Federal government in this work, and counties can supplement the work of the States.

AT SUNSET.

The years are gone, and the comradeship,
The press of the hand and the touch of the lip,
The lighting of eyes with a common thought,
The ecstacy's fire, the stern, hard "ought,"
Joy snatched out of the throes of pain,
Chastening sunshine, hallowed rain,
Together we two have braved it through.
Grim workers, gay players—I and you.
Woman I love, though they put up the bars,
Death cannot part us—life has been ours!

—[Edith Waller.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS OF BEING "PINCHED."

OBSERVATIONS ON THE SPOT.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

San Francisco has a group of lawyers who are famous over the whole Coast. The fame of some of them has, in fact, crept over the Rockies into the effete East.

Every one of this coterie is to be seen from day to day in Judge Lawlor's court, where the graft cases are in progress.

The attorney who takes the main part in the fighting is A. A. Moore, a distinguished corporation lawyer who has appeared for Calhoun in every proceeding so far.

Personally, Moore is a middle-aged man with a shaggy "shock" of iron-gray hair. That he is feared by the other side is evident from the fact that Heney and his associates never will agree to enter into any stipulation with him.

The other day they would not even admit that a man neatly buried in a cemetery and surmounted by a tombstone is a dead man.

In the course of arguing a motion and examining a witness, Moore walks a mile or so. His most characteristic attitude is walking up and down the main aisle with his thumbs in the arm holes of his vest.

He wears a pair of black-rimmed eyeglasses over which he peers into a man's very gizzard and extracts the secret of his life.

The associate upon whom he seems to rely most is his son, Stanley Moore, a boy in his twenties, and a very keen yet unassuming young man. He has a mind that cuts straight through to the point.

When Moore the elder is examining a witness, there will come a stage whisper from the attorney's table, "Pop ask him what he was doing when —— etc." And it is always some question that makes the man on the witness stand duck and wince.

This father and son working together in court is really a charming thing to witness.

The Bilingum millionaires concerned in the Parkside cases have several lawyers, the chief counsel being the ironing Garrett McInerney. So far, he has hardly said a word aloud. He sits in one of the pews in the Jewish synagogue, where the court is held and looks dissatisfied.

McInerney has the most beautiful eyes I ever saw and a great massive head covered with silvered gray hair. He is very fat and is said not to be in very good health.

Schmitz has a lawyer who is also in the Parkside and telephone cases—Frank Barrett. Barrett is younger than most of the other big lawyers. He is slightly bald and talks exactly like Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles.

He has the same voice and the same oratorical tricks of expression. Like most of the really "big ones," he is a very agreeable man.

The Napoleonic Delmas is rather disappointing. He isn't such a ringer for Napoleon as the sketch artists would have you believe.

Since his return from New York, he dresses—oh, he dresses! Do you suppose Napoleon ever wore white spats? The clothes of Mr. Delmas are so gorgeous as to be amazing. They watch for his next appearance in court as they watch for the daily parade of a bride's trousseau.

I heard him argue a motion to postpone a case two weeks. It was really beautiful. But I felt like the cook of De Quincey who gasped, "What an awful sight of words the body has."

The man who does the main part of the talking for the Heney side is the youthful Mr. Cobb. He is the law partner of Mr. Heney.

He seems to be on the young side of thirty years and dresses with a picturesque carelessness that involves artist "bow ties." He seems to have a God-like calm. Nothing ruffles Mr. Cobb. He seems to be strong for codes. Every time anything happens Mr. Cobb bobs up with a copy of some old code or other and opens fire with it.

Were a burglar to suddenly awaken Mr. Cobb from a sound sleep I am perfectly certain that he would say, "Sir, you are breaking the law. Section 000000 has the following language relating to your intrusion on my premises."

It must be confessed, however, that Cobb is a clever young man and a very civil and courteous one.

Two men from the District Attorney's office assist the prosecution. One is Mr. Harrison, who is very good-looking and much weighed down by the responsibilities of his office. Moore had him on the witness stand one day. Harrison gave him such a look that the corporation lawyer said to him sarcastically, "Oh, please, sir, do not frighten me by such a glare."

The other Assistant District Attorney is a young fellow named O'Gara, who is a good criminal lawyer. His long suit seems to be an intricate familiarity with the laws governing the admissibility of evidence.

The silent partner of the prosecution is Hiram Johnson—a handsome man with a complexion a girl might be proud of. Johnson is regarded as one of the best trial lawyers in California, but has a most unpleasant manner of browbeating the lawyers opposing him.

He started in to bullyrag the Moores the other day when the elder Moore glanced mildly over his glasses and remarked, "We will now pause and give Mr. Johnson a chance to empty himself of his emotion."

Which for once took the wind out of Johnson.

Heney varies between being charming and very nasty.

He is frank and seems to be willing to go half-way to the other attorneys, but never is in court an hour before he suddenly breaks out in a violent fit of temper at something, at which times he is brutal and seems trying to pick a fight.

There is evidently fear that Heney will be assassinated. He is almost constantly accompanied by a giant young athlete named Hess, who goes heavily armed.

Spreckels also cherishes the pleasant illusion that some one is after him. He is said to be also guarded wherever he goes.

Hist! I'm followed!

The irritating thing about all the lawyers for the prosecution is the holy light that they seem to think plays about their heads. They seem to look out pityingly upon the world.

Their idea seems to be that virtue ceases at Heney's front office door—all the balance of the world are crooked grafters.

Associated with Delmas in defending Louis Glass, is Mr. Coogan, a leading San Francisco lawyer, who is one of the mildest and yet most severe-looking of men. Sometimes the relations between Coogan and the prosecution become so exceedingly agreeable that it really has the appearance of their being about to agree on something. But of course they never do.

Judge Lawlor has relieved Judge Dunne of these graft cases. Since his unsuccessful attempt to persuade them to get together on some of the points in the case, Judge Lawlor has maintained a severe air of disapproval toward the whole works.

He is a very fine-looking man, Judge Lawlor, with a distinguished young face, clear-cut and finely chiseled and surmounted with a mass of white hair. He is strong for "reading things into the records." He seems to have an amazing grasp of the codes and is fair and unimpassioned in his rulings.

One of his favorite attitudes in court is getting down from his desk and sitting on the stairs leading up thereto.

San Francisco, June 22.

Tainted News and Damagogues.

"Tainted news" is a term applied by certain self-appointed reformers, sociologists, publicists, etc., to a class of matter sent to newspapers gratis by agents of publicity or by publicity departments of corporations which took this means to place themselves in a proper light before the public. They were rather impelled to such a course by sensational "reform" publications which persisted in misrepresenting them.

"The True American," of Trenton, N. J., which says it is a liberal user of matter of this kind, thus replied to the critics:

"'The True American' is not so narrow that it will not consider the 'other side' of any question. It is glad to receive 'tainted news.' If the matter seems of sufficient value to its readers it will be published. At its worst, it cannot do more damage to the public mind than the demagogic utterances that are published by the semi-socialistic newspapers and magazines that have multiplied so rapidly within recent years and are befouling the stream of popular thought." [Arizona Republican, June 3.

In one way, it would be a grand thing for the human race if all the telegraph wires in the world were to stop working for awhile.

RIPPLES OF MIRTH.

Thirteen for the Dog.

"But why do you call your dog Thirteen?"

"Don't you see he's lame?"

"Yes; but what has that to do with it?"

"Why, he puts down three and carries one, doesn't he?"—[Tit Bits.

Silent About It.

"Did you ever perform any great or heroic act?"

"Yep."

"Then why didn't you say something about it when Mrs. Jones was bragging about the bravery of Jones?"

"I don't feel like bragging about it."

"What was it, I'd like to know?"

"I married."—[Houston Post.

Has Enough Letters.

"Here's a note," said the postal clerk, "from a man complaining that his mail isn't delivered regularly."

"What's his name?" asked the chief.

"Vladevoledoweschowski."

"Huh! with that name you'd think he had all the letters he needed."—[Chicago Record.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS.

ALL WORK A SCHOOL.

BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN.

The man who gets the most out of life is the man who lives to learn. An old man, walking by the banks of a river, said to his grandson: "See this river, my child. It has a different interest for every one of us. That man yonder thinks of it merely as a place to fish. The boys down there think of it as a swimming pool. The man who owns the sawmill considers it a part of his workshop. Those young people in the launch think of it as a pleasure stream. The farmer finds that it enriches his fields. The cows come down to drink. The old settlers tell us of a battle that was fought near the bend. And you and I find it a many-sided object lesson. For you are soon to go out into the world, and you will find life like this river. You will observe that every man thinks of it from his own standpoint. Some are idlers along the banks waiting for chance to bring them what they want; some row up stream and some float down; some find refreshment, some only pleasure; some see only the hard work, and some are looking back at the past, thinking of the battles that have been fought in years gone by. But you and I will find it a great object lesson—a school where all the activities of men and women become lessons, and where progress in wisdom and goodness is the chief motive in all that we do."

GO FORTH!

There is always the waiting hillside,
Always the touch of the wind.
Go forth in the good spring weather,
And your faun-free heart will find
Songs of the trail and river,
Songs of the leaves and grass,
And the laughter of fair Diana
With her nymphs as they softly pass.

A dream lies over the valley,
And a sea of golden mist
Flows to the shore of the mountains,
And blends with their amethyst;
Like the ripples of music falling
On your heart from the orange tree
That thrills to the voice of the mocking bird
In passionate minstrelsy.

Your pulse will beat to the music
Of wayward Spring's delight,
Till a yearning sweet and olden
Will come with the falling night—
To be one with the purple mountain,
One with the Venus star,
And never again to long in vain
For beloved things afar.

PROMINENT PERSONS

Mme. Melba announces that the demands for her autograph are so numerous that she will henceforth sell them for half a crown (about 60 cents,) donating the receipts to charity.

The Duke of Abruzzi, now a visitor in this country, pronounces his name as though it were spelled "Ah-brootsee," with the accent on the second syllable. Although only 34 years old, he has seen a deal of hard work and has had many hazardous experiences. He is the nephew of a Spanish King who abdicated under pressure.

Prince William, second son of the Crown Prince of Sweden, will arrive in this country August 15 at Jamestown, on board the new Swedish cruiser Fylgia. It is probable that Washington and New York will be the only cities he will visit, as the vessel is ordered to return by September 1.

Gen. Louis Botha, the Boer leader, while recently in London, learned that a famous military chaplain, Rev. Mr. Culley, was ill in the Millbank, military hospital and every day sent the sufferer an exquisite bouquet. Mr. Culley was the chaplain who from Spion Kop to Pieter's Hill reported manifold acts of great humanity and fairness of the Boers and their leaders in those sanguinary engagements of the South African War.

Judge Uriah M. Rose of Arkansas, one of the American delegates to the Hague conference, is regarded as one of the most scholarly lawyers in America. His writings, speeches and professional orations, dealing with the science of jurisprudence in general, but particularly with international relations, have marked him as a man most admirably fitted to uphold American dignity and interests at the conference. He is a Kentuckian by birth and for more than a quarter of a century has been one of the foremost rank of the Arkansas bar.

Wood Strong as Iron.

There is a tree which grows in Australia the wood of which is believed to be stronger than any other known hardwood. It is the yate, and grows to a hundred feet tall with a diameter from two to three feet. The average tensile strength is 24,000 pounds to the square inch, equaling good cast iron. One specimen was tested up to seventeen and a half tons to the square inch, which is equal to the tensile strength of wrought iron.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

During the past few months inquiries of various sorts—grouping under one interrogation—have been received by the dramatic department of this paper from residents interested in theatrical matters. These questions might be summed up as follows:

"What is the cause of the great increase in Los Angeles theatrical enterprise during the past two or three years?"

"Does the present amusement prosperity represent solid progress, or is it a mere momentary inflation?"

"Has Los Angeles now become the dramatic center of the Pacific Coast?"

To the first of these questions, the answer is brief and simple. Natural increase in local theaters has been augmented about by our greatly increased population.

As for the second, the writer believes that the theatrical prosperity now is substantial. One has only to take a little figuring to see that the increase of amusement houses has not been kept up with the increase in resident population.

A few years ago, the city's population might be roundly estimated at 200,000 people. We then had the Los Angeles Theater, the Orpheum and the Burbank. We now have 284,000 residents, and from three the theaters which may be called first-class have suddenly increased to seven—the Mason Operahouse, the Burbank, the Belasco, the Auditorium, the Grand Operahouse, the Orpheum and the Hotchkiss—while the ratio of people has risen practically one fifth. And since the Hotchkiss has been practically out of business for a year, the theaters have in reality more than doubled in number.

As to the fate of legitimate enterprises, there need not fill the observer with fear. Many cheap theaters have had their share in this tide of amusement prosperity, and have, perhaps, tended to help the larger houses down to a steady basis of success. There is room for one or even two more large theaters, provided that the attractions put in them have the merit of novelty, and are not merely cover again the ground already well utilized by established houses. The steady business which supports the local managers even in the dullness of the summer season, is an ample testimonial to the local appetite for good things.

As to the third question: No one familiar with the Coast situation previous to the San Francisco earthquake could doubt that the San Francisco Mecca of the Thespianic West, what it always has been to New York but the holocaust and ensuing changes have wrought many serious changes.

No San Franciscan would admit that municipal control has passed from that city to this, but it is at least certain that a large share of business prestige has been transferred.

Especially significant was the recent election of Clarence Drown, Los Angeles man, to the supervision of all the Coast Orpheums—and the more, since this great circuit, with all its present prestige, was, in reality, a San Francisco undertaking.

Many new plays are now written and produced in Los Angeles, and it is a well-known fact that the local producers excel anything else on this Coast. The tours of most of the world's great musical artists to visit this city next year will be managed, in their western extension, from Los Angeles. In the musical sense, there can be no dispute upon this matter, for the Great Western Musical Bureau, with offices on Broadway, and officered by Los Angeles men, really covers every State from the Canadian to the Mexican line, and from the Coast to the Missouri river.

When audience and critics disagree in their verdict of a play, it is usually the audience that triumphs—with the box office.

Two very large audiences paid for the privilege of applauding "The Price of Honor" at the Grand yesterday afternoon and evening, and the number of curtain calls after each act must have given the man at the rope a very tired arm. It was melodrama, plain, square inch, squaling good old thing. One specimen was tested up to seventeen and a half tons to the square inch, which is equal to the tensile strength of wrought iron.

Lillian Hayward appears as a "dashing widow" in the full slang significance of the word. Her acting is quite in keeping with her costume, and, as she is a winsome creature, after all and the gallery loves her, even as it does.

There is good scenery, and some good comedy. The principal males of the organization are quite in the background this week.

Robert Homans will seriously consider vaudeville, in the near future. He has several sketches under consideration, and may abandon the stage entirely, in favor of the one-act form.

Oscar Bachman is making arrangements to sell his play, "Under the Flag," to Dick Ferris, for Minnehaha production. Other negotiations pending in the piece are on.

Work on a little theater is rising on the beach at Long Beach, and will be completed within a few weeks.

"David Harum" began its second week at the Burbank yesterday.

"The Serenade," which will probably be the last production of the California at the Auditorium during the present season, will be seen upon that stage tonight.

The commencement concert of the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and Arts will occur at Blanchard Hall, on Friday evening. In addition to the musical programme, Rev. Dr. Robert Burdette will make an address to the graduates and Rev. Edward J. Harper also will take part in the ceremonies. The piano graduates are Ada Henderson, Mina Maud Fowler and Mabel Penwarden. Blanche Helen Reed will graduate in oratory. The certificate concert of the school will be given on Thursday evening in Blanchard Hall.

John Philip Sousa will probably visit Los Angeles again this fall, for a short season with his band. His western tour should bring him here some time in October.

Novina had her first glimpse of a trolley car yesterday morning when a Pacific Electric coach rolled into that city at 10:30 o'clock. Although only a few passengers were carried, many of the large coaches was used that a full trip might be made under favorable conditions.

Officials on board were Traffic Manager Kelley of the northern division, Train master, Mr. McPherson; Superintendent Van Vranken of the Pasadena division. Constructing Engineer Hooper, who built the line, and Freight rate clerk. The round trip

THEY'RE OFF FOR RACE; WATCH THEM GO.

Fifty-three Gallant Girls and Boys Seeking a Higher Education—Smile If You Can't Help Them in Any Other Way—First Coupon Printed.

THIS is an important date in the eyes of more than half a hundred young people who, this morning begin the race for a higher education. Fifty-three boys and girls start out this morning to transact business for themselves. To many of them it is their first venture in this direction. All over Southern California, in every town and on every country road, eager feet are going forward this morning, all intent on the same purpose—the winning of a higher education. In this worthy pursuit, every well-wisher of mankind will hail a God speed after them.

WATCH THE SCORE.

This morning for the last time the list of names will appear in the order printed below. Tomorrow morning they will appear in the regular score and the one whose name stands at the very end of the long list today may be at the head tomorrow—it all depends on the score turned in. Let every contestant, so far as possible, turn in his score at The Times business office before 6 o'clock this evening. If you have but 25 points, score in and get your name up on the honor roll that will head the column tomorrow morning.

A LAST WORD.

A last word to our gallant racers. Don't get discouraged. Be courteous. Smile. "In the bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as fail." A word to the public. If you feel that you can't give a subscription to the eager boy or girl who asks you, speak at least an encouraging word. It means a great deal to them. It costs you but little and above all, remember that you were young yourself once, and appreciate their position.

CLIP THE COUPONS.

This morning the first coupon is printed. Each coupon counts one point. Clip these coupons from day to day for your favorite candidate and when you have a bunch of twenty-five send them to the scholarship manager. Write the name of the contestant you wish to favor plainly on the coupon and it will be credited to his or her account.

CONTESTANTS TAKE NOTICE.

A last word of instruction and advice to contestants:

When the price of a subscription is paid to a contestant, he or she will be held personally responsible for it until it is turned over to the subscription department of The Times.

Contestants should cash in at The Times office once a day if practicable and orders for the paper for immediate delivery should be turned in promptly so that subscribers may not be disappointed.

Remember that a new subscription is not a renewal in the name of some other member of a family or firm who have been subscribers for years, but it must be a bona fide new subscriber which actually increases the circulation of The Times. The route agent in charge of the district in which the paper is to be delivered, or the manager of the circulation department, will be the final judge as to whether a subscription is old or new.

BUILDING CROP GOOD ALL 'ROUND.

PASADENA WRITES PROGRESS IN BRICK AND WOOD.

Contractors Are Kept Busy and Dealers in Material Are Not Finding an Opportunity to Complain of Poor Business—East Colorado Street to Lose a Landmark.

Office of The Times, No. 36 South Raymond ave.

PASADENA, June 24.—In spite of the gloomy prophecies of some pessimists there has been a goodly amount of building going on since the first of the year, and all parts of the city are represented in the progress. Contractors are being kept busy and the dealers in lumber and other building supplies are not finding any opportunity to complain of poor business.

The construction has been pretty evenly divided among the different sections of the city. It has been of a substantial character that promises well for the future and the state of affairs is decidedly satisfactory to those who are vitally interested in the welfare of the city. But little speculation is being indulged in and in the residence districts most of the houses are being erected as homes by the men who are putting them up.

OLD MANSION TO GO.

The old "Janes Mansion," one of the landmarks of East Colorado street, will soon be moved to South Euclid avenue in order to make room for a new brick store building. The work of clearing the lot is already under way and the house has been placed upon rollers and turned around in readiness for the journey which it is about to take.

The Janes house, which is about twenty years old, was long one of the show places of the city, and was always pointed out to visitors. At the time it was built it was considered very gorgeous and was proudly boasted of by Pasadenans. Of late years the steady growth of the business section has crowded most of the residences west of Euclid avenue out and the old house has attracted much attention from the fact that it was the only imposing residence in a block filled almost entirely with brick blocks.

ELECTRICS AHEAD.

The Edison Electric Company's baseball team defeated the Myers Juniors on the Raymond grounds yesterday by a score of 7 to 3. The game was spirited from start to finish. The Edison team was made up entirely of employés of the Pasadena office of the company, no outside talent being called into service.

There was a goodly crowd in attendance and the competing teams received hearty cheers. The Myers team put up a good game of ball, but the players were outclassed and their opponents carried off the honors.

HORSE FALLS ON RIDER.

A fractious steed caused considerable excitement on West Colorado street yesterday afternoon and was responsible for a hurry-up call being sent in for the Police Surgeon. The animal, which was being ridden under the saddle, took fright at a passing car and began to rear. The rider lost his head and, in an effort to bring the animal into line, pulled it over onto the pavement.

As the horse and man rolled in the gutter together several men rush to the assistance of the rider and dragged him from under the steed. He was unconscious and at first it was thought he was dead. His heart was found to be beating, however, so he was placed in an auto and the Receiving Hospital was notified to be ready to receive a patient.

The Police Surgeon was hurriedly summoned and everything was gotten into shape, but the patient did not appear. Investigation disclosed that he had regained consciousness and had refused to go to the hospital, insisting that he was all right and not in need of medical assistance. As the man seemed able to care for himself the auto was stopped and he departed without leaving his name.

CHAMBER'S NEW HOME.

The new Chamber of Commerce building on East Colorado street is rapidly nearing completion and only the final finishing work remains to be done. The decoration of the ground-floor stores is well under way and it will be but a matter of a few weeks when everything will be finished.

The structure is of steel and tile and is six stories in height. It is one of the most imposing buildings in the city and is being fitted up in a costly manner throughout.

FOR THE ROADS.

"Good roads" is the slogan of all Pasadenans these days and the crusade is being carried on with a vigor which promises success. Not only are the citizens wearing the little blue buttons on their coat lapels, but they are working as well and are exerting every effort to secure the necessary highways for Southern California.

"We are doing but little talking at present," said a prominent Pasadena business man yesterday, "but we are doing a lot of thinking and it will be but a short time till we have something of interest to report to our friends. The leaven is now working and when the time comes it will be seen that Pasadena is in the front rank of the workers."

PASADENA POINTS.

Assistant Manager John B. Dame of Hotel Maryland, has just completed a handsome birdseye map of the southern part of California, showing the location of the different hotels under Mr. Linnard's control and the railroad lines connecting them. The map is done in colored pastels and the mountains are painted in relief.

Yesterday was a busy day for the garages, and repair men were kept busy throughout the day. An exceptionally large number of visitors flocked into the city in their motor cars and evidently they had trouble along the road in many cases, for there was a steady procession wending its way in and out of the garages. The autoists reported the roads to be in fairly good condition in most directions, but those who came over the highways east of San Gabriel reported more or less inconvenience from dust and ruts.

Chief of Police Favor is receiving many compliments on the admirable shape into which he has gotten the department since taking charge. The new head has inspired the members of the force with some of his enthusiasm and the radical change from the old easy way of doing things is universally appreciated.

The periodical crusade against automobile scorchers which the police department wages from time to time is on again, and the reckless speeders who have forgotten the lessons handed out will likely find themselves in the clutches of the law. For a time it looked as if the practice had been wholly wiped out, but of late there have been many complaints and the officers have been instructed to keep on the lookout for all offenders. No mercy is to be shown those who fall into the dragnet of the law and fines are to be passed out to the full limit set by law.

SOCIAL NOTES.

STIR DRINK MATTER AGAIN.

Movement in Santa Monica to Have Liquor Question Submitted to Voters.

SANTA MONICA, June 23.—A petition is being prepared for circulation among the voters asking the City Council to submit to the people the liquor license question. If the matter should come to an issue, the vote will be for and against saloons. While the radical temperance element is not at the head of the present movement, there is no question as to how it would vote should the proposition come to a test.

Opposition to the present liquor monopoly as fostered by the new Council comes, in the main, from the friends of the applicants for liquor licenses who were refused. All of the Utah-avenue petitioners were denied, while the Savoy Hotel and Thomas Dugan of Pier avenue, received like treatment. Their contention is that they are as much entitled to licenses as are those who received such favors at the hands of the board.

SANTA MONICA NOTES.

The local lodge of Elks is to give a ball at the North Beach auditorium on Wednesday evening. This affair is in lieu of the regular monthly ladies' night at the Clubhouse.

The baseball game today was between the Santa Monica and Booth-Neighbors nines of the amateur league, and resulted in a victory for Santa Monica. The score was 6 to 2. This is the ninth game won by the home team out of nine games played.

In the week just closed nine building permits were issued. One of them was to cover a $5000 home being built by Thomas Blanchard, at Fourth street and Alta Drive, in the Palisades.

Mrs. H. P. Dunbar has gone to Oregon, where she will visit with relatives during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stanford of Syracuse, N. Y., who have been passing a vacation by the sea, have just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. They were married at Hamilton, N. Y., and have spent the greater part of the half century in travel.

Mrs. William Shutt is preparing to leave for Pomona, where her home is to be made.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, June 23.—A number of new streets are being laid here. At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees, another deed conveying land for street purposes on Monterey Road was approved by the City Attorney. The deed was accepted.

Some excitement was afforded residents of this place when a would-be burglar was caught red-handed rifling the residence of Mrs. Daniel McKinney. The man gave his name as William Pahland when arraigned in Justice Glover's court.

The Presbyterian Church is to have a new pastor in Rev. Fisher, who has resigned his position in Monrovia. Rev. Fisher is to take charge from the first Sunday in July.

A horse belonging to R. E. Hawkins, performed a tumbling act Wednesday morning. The animal was improperly hitched and in his attempts to make himself comfortable when he was tied, backed off down a bank and went rolling down the hill. When found, both horse and buggy were unharmed.

HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, June 23.—The commencement exercises of the Hollywood Union High School began this morning and will continue each evening during the week excepting Tuesday. At 11 o'clock the beautiful Methodist Church, South, was crowded with the High School students, faculty and friends gathered to hear the class sermon by Rev. Dr. E. P. Ryland, the pastor, whose theme was "The Higher Education." Dr. Ryland tonight addressed the grammar school graduates.

Features of the week's programme are class day exercises at the High School auditorium Monday evening, a class play Wednesday evening at the same place and commencement Thursday evening.

PLAN FOR GREAT ENDEAVOR MEET.

BIG RALLIES ARE HELD IN LONG BEACH.

Young People's Societies of the Baptist, Methodist and Christian Churches Have Enthusiastic Gatherings Preliminary to the State Convention Which Is to Open Friday.

LONG BEACH, June 23.—The coming week will mark the opening of the convention season in Long Beach. Three monster rallies of young people today, comprising the three divisions of the Christian Endeavors, Epworth League and Baptist Young People, filled the Baptist and Christian churches to overflowing. It was the final gathering of the local organizations in preparation for the Christian Endeavor State convention, which will open a week's session in Long Beach beginning Friday. The junior rally was held at 3 o'clock at the Christian Church, the intermediate at 6 o'clock at the Baptist Church and the seniors at 7:30 at both churches. The meetings were fervid and enthusiastic, carrying out the Endeavor motto of the year: "Be ye doers of the word, not hearers only."

Late reports from the north end of the State indicate an attendance of 335 delegates. Sacramento will send a strong delegation, with a guarantee from the Chamber of Commerce to finance the 1908 convention if secured for the State Capital.

The convention will open Friday morning with an address by Dr. John Willis Baer. The first three days and nights will be devoted almost entirely to the religious well being of the delegates, while Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to the various interests and fields of Christian Endeavor work, Bible and mission study classes and practical conferences.

Among the speakers and workers on the programme are Rev. L. A. McAfee of Berkeley, Rev. R. A. Hadden, Los Angeles; Leon V. Shaw, Misses Alice Strang and Maybelle Austermell, of Los Angeles; Kate Ellsworth of Oakland, J. E. White of San Francisco; Rev. Dwight E. Potter of Oakland, Rev. H. H. McQuilken, San José; Rev. R. P. Shepherd, Pomona; Paul C. Brown and Dr. William Horace Day of Los Angeles; E. McKinley, Oakland; E. E. Esdon of San Francisco, and Rev. Dana W. Bartlett of Los Angeles.

Music for the convention will be furnished by Riley's Convention Orchestra and a chorus of 150 voices, under the direction of Dr. A. T. Covert.

TOLD BY THE STRAND.

A State W.C.T.U. institute will convene here Tuesday for a three days' session, holding its meetings at the First Christian Church. Mrs. Emma Palmer, the local president, will deliver the welcoming address. On Wednesday the convention will be addressed by Mrs. Carrie L. Grout, a W.C.T.U. and club woman of the East, who will tell of her investigation of sociological problems.

Exasperated at the delay of the Salt Lake in closing negotiations by which in return for the closing of eight short streets in West Long Beach, the railroad was to deed two streets to the water front with 600 feet free wharfage on the navigable waters of the bay, the City Trustees on Tuesday will abandon the proceedings instituted, and will ratify a deal with the Blinn-Robinson Company, whereby Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets will be closed to allow that company to erect a planing mill and yards which will employ 250 men.

The nineteenth annual assembly of the Christian Church of Southern California and Arizona will convene in Long Beach August 7 to 18, inclusive. The day sessions will be held at the First Christian Church and the night lectures and Sunday services in the Auditorium. Rev. S. M. Martin of Portland will lecture every evening on some theme of the Christian doctrines, and Dr. Charles A. Young, an editor and educator, will conduct the daily Bible study. Among other speakers will be W. R. Warren of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Ida W. Harrison of Kentucky, J. H. Morharter of Missouri, Helen E. Moses of Indiana, H. Guy of Japan and W. P. Bentley of China.

Annual memorial services of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters were observed today by the members of the both orders attending the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. Josiah Sibley preaching the memorial sermon. In the afternoon the cemetery was visited and the graves of nine departed members were decorated. A committee also went to Los Angeles to decorate the grave of the late Chancellor Commander, R. M. Lynn.

Fifteen hundred people today attended the opening service of a series of Y.M.C.A. Sunday afternoon meetings at the Auditorium. Eight pastors of the city made five-minute talks on pertinent subjects: "The Important Letter," Rev. Robert Gooden; "A Right Start," Rev. Dell Johnston; "A Word of Encouragement," Rev. Ray Gray; "The Worth of the Land," Rev. A. S. Mitchell; "Overcoming," Rev. Ralph Larken; "The Living Way," Rev. Chas. Pease; "Civic Cleanness," Rev. E. W. Thornton; "Eternal Life in the Midst of Time," Rev. Josiah Sibley.

Plans for the Fourth of July celebration are maturing rapidly. The features of the day will be an industrial and civic parade in which prizes will be offered for the best displays. At night the usual grand display of fireworks will be given on the beach from a float anchored just beyond the breakers. Dist.-Atty. Fredericks will be the orator of the day.

Life Saver George Hewston, although not a confirmed smoker, is the possessor of a meerschaum pipe two feet long which Hewston's grandfather bought in Berlin seventy-seven years ago. The pipe has acquired a remarkable color and according to Hewston it has a superb "taste."

The City Trustees, after a year and a half, have grown tired of the long-drawn-out night sessions of the Council and by ordinance have changed the regular meetings to Tuesday afternoon. The new order goes into effect this week.

The steamer City of Long Beach has been retired from service and will go on the ways at San Diego to have alterations made to hull and propellors, which are expected to increase her speed. Pending her retirement the steamer San Diego will take her place in the Nelson Navigation Company's line of boats.

City Marshal Young has inaugurated a record system by which photographs and descriptions of every criminal arrested can be referred to easily and quickly.

Co. H, Seventh Regiment, is rapidly getting into shape for the State encampment near San Francisco in July. Corps. Burson, Adkinson and Wyse have been advanced to be sergeants and Privates Boynton, Taylor, Emery and Stewart advanced to corporals, making a full quota of officers. The company will go to camp with its ranks recruited to the limit.

Dr. G. W. Covert, a pioneer of Long Beach and for forty years a practicing physician, says that a sure cure for blood poisoning or lockjaw is to take a raw beet, scrape it and make a poultice and apply to the wound and in twenty-four hours every particle of poison is extracted. Where inflammation exists a dressing of castor oil will cause it to disappear. In all of his practice he never knew of a failure to cure with these remedies.

The annual alumni banquet of Long Beach High School was given last evening at Hotel Del Mar. Gerald Hansen, president of the association, was toastmaster. Addresses were delivered by Miss Evelyn Dayman, Albert Weston, Charles Walcott, Mayor Downs, Dr. L. A. Perce and J. A. Miller.

City Marshal Young yesterday investigated various games of chance along the Pike, with the result that four concessions, Fisher's wheel of fortune, Gun's electric push button, a Japanese fish novelty and a fish pond were closed and the owners were instructed to appear before the Trustees and show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. The Marshal found plenty of evidence to show that these concessions are "sure-thing games," where only cappers win the valuable prizes.

THOUSANDS AT CORNER LAYING.

Covina Methodists Celebrate the Placing a Chief Part of House of Worship.

COVINA, June 23.—Today is one that will long be remembered by the Methodists of this city. Fully two thousand were present at the laying of the corner stone of the new church which will replace the one erected in 1888. The services were held this afternoon under a canopy canvas, the address being delivered by Dr. Eli McClish, Ph.D., formerly president of the University of the Pacific.

There was an all-day rally, the first service being held at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and the gatherings continuing throughout the day. The morning service was in charge of Rev. C. L. Libby, formerly a pastor of the church, but now of Redlands.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the Aid Society in the old church building and none were turned away. The new church property will cost $15,000. The pastor is Harry W. White, formerly of University Church, Los Angeles.

One of the features of the day's events was the raising of $9000 for the new church.

The cornerstone of the old church, laid in 1887, was opened and the articles in it were found in an excellent state of preservation. One of them was a copy of The Times of the issue of Saturday, July 30, 1887, containing twelve pages. That copy and a copy of today's Times containing 132 pages, were placed in the box which was imbedded in the new cornerstone.

DRAWS CITY OWNERS.

Many People Go from Los Angeles to Inquire About Ocean Park Disincorporation.

VENICE, June 25.—The Venice resort had the pleasure today of entertaining an unusually large number of city folk who had come for a day's respite and a few whiffs of ozone. Among the visitors there was a large representation of the Angelenos who own property on the beach and maintain homes here at least during the summer months. These had come for the purpose of making inquiry into the proposed movement to disincorporate the city of Ocean Park. But there were no new developments along this line today. The registration of voters closed with the midnight hour yesterday, and will not be resumed until Wednesday. It is not yet known whether the petition praying for an election will be presented to the City Trustees tomorrow night, although the 143 petitioners represent a majority of forty-six more names than are required.

There was an increased attendance at the services conducted in the auditorium this morning, when Miss Mabelle Biggart delivered a sermon on "The Stone Wall." In the afternoon and evening there were the usual band concerts, which were largely attended. The dancing pavilion was the rendezvous for large numbers, while the surf was full of bathers and many boats were gliding along the canals. In the early hours of evening there was a vesper sunshine service on the sand.

The only accident of the day occurred during the afternoon at the helter-skelter, an amusement attraction near Trolleyway. This place is not open for business, but in the absence of any caretaker the little folks are accustomed to climb to the top of the chute, and then made the slide. While thus engaged, little Jock Prosse of Los Angeles, lost his balance and fell headlong to the ground. He tumbled about twenty feet and was unconscious when picked up. His mother was near at hand, and after securing medical assistance, returned with the little sufferer to her home, No. 621 Crocker street. The lad was painfully bruised, but it is not thought that his injuries will prove serious.

Pleasant quarters are being established at the ocean end of the Windward-avenue pier for the accommodation of the life-saving crew. The building formerly housing the wave motor model is to be converted into headquarters for the corps, and here the meetings will be held. There will be modest club quarters here, and the place will be made a convenient resting place for the members of the squad.

Local baseball players are to meet at the cricket grounds tomorrow morning for the purpose of organizing an amateur nine to go against the teams from Sherman, Palms, Playa del Rey, Redondo, Sawtelle, Santa Monica and other amateurs.

The cricket game arranged between the local and Los Angeles teams for next Saturday will be played on the Santa Monica polo grounds, as the Venice grounds will be out of commission until after the encampment of the Naval Militia and the Knights of Pythias.

There is constant and steady demand for country property, ranches, orchards and suburban homes; more so than for any other class of real estate. This is accounted for by the never-ceasing stream of newcomers seeking investment and country homes. Try a classified advertisement in The Times if you desire to dispose of your property. ## POMONA.

POMONA, June 23.—Most of the local orange-packing houses are closing for the season. The Ely-Gillmore Company has shipped its last car, and the California Produce Company has finished packing 100 cars for the season. The Independent Fruit Company has finished on oranges, but will continue to ship lemons. The Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange is finishing packing seedlings, but will be busy for some time on Valencias.

James Hume and a large crew of men will commence hay baling operations on Monday, which will continue in this vicinity for several weeks.

ZINGARIS LOSE TO WANDERERS.

Muffed Catches Responsible for Leaders' Loss.

Bhumgara and Higgins Get in Some Deadly Work.

Barwell and Larritt Play Dashing Innings.

The Zingaris lost to the Wanderers at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, before a record attendance, by a score of 64 to 98. This places the Marylebones in the lead, the Wanderers still being the runners up for second place.

Barwell lost the toss, and took the field, McCombe starting the bowling. In the first over, Mould snicked a single to the slips for one, after which Maggett drove the same bowler for 2 to long off. Barwell started the bowling at the opposite end, and sent down some well pitched balls, which the batsmen played carefully. Meggett was the most aggressive, hitting out well and making several excellent drives to long off, but in playing back to one of McCombe's high-pitched deliveries, hit his wicket and was retired for a useful twelve.

Tomkins, the newcomer, played out the over, and as Barwell deemed himself expensive, he gave place to Salter, who promptly knocked Tomkins's off stump down with his third delivery. Pat Higgins now came in, but apparently brought no luck, as Mould hit up a catch, which Kirk held. Three wickets were now down for only 22 runs, but by hard hitting from the very start, and partnered by Kitchin, who also was slogging the bowling, these two raised the score to 46 before McCombe sent down a beauty, which clean bowled the Scotchman. Kitchin's best strokes were a 2 off Salter to long off, a regular "daisy cutter," and a fine cut to the boundary off McCombe for 3.

MUFFED FLY BALL.

The Wanderer captain, who was now partnered by Heavens, should have been caught at leg by Roden, when he had scored 13, but that fielder, although he had the ball in his hands, failed to hold it, giving Higgins a life. Four runs later, Roden again badly missed Higgins, also on the leg side, which would have proved costly, indeed, had not Barwell, who again essayed to bowl, got Higgins's leg before wicket, thus dismissing one of the most dashing and hard-hitting bats in the club. As it was, the Wanderer captain made top score for his side, compiling his runs in fast time by splendid drives to the off.

With six wickets down for 49, Ramsden and Crouch became partners, raising the score between them for the seventh wicket to 69, before a separation was effected. Crouch hit out several times, but most of his strokes resulted only in singles. Ramsden, who sent several balls to the boundary, skied a ball from McCombe, which either Salter or Bamford should have taken, the former not even trying for it, although it was really his catch. Other, who had now relieved McCombe, sent down a rising ball, which Crouch spooned up to point, but which Kirk failed to hold. In the next over Ramsden hit up to cailed square leg, which also was dropped, this time by Heavens. In all, five easy catches were muffed by loose fielding, which practically gave the game to the Wanderers.

With Ramsden clean bowled by Gadsdon, and Crouch caught off Other, it was thought by many that the innings would close by the addition of only a few more runs, but Larritt, an old Australian cricketer of merit, came in and made things most unpleasant for the fielders. He drove Gadsdon to leg for a 3, one of the prettiest strokes of the day, following this up in the succeeding over with a boundary hit for a like number off Other. With the exception of Cantley and Larritt, the latter carving out his bat, the ball gave little or no trouble, as Roden and Bhumgara each were out for a "duck," the innings closing at 3:40 o'clock for two runs short of the century.

The Zingaris started their innings disastrously. Other being clean bowled by Tomkins with the score at 2. Heavens, who now came in, after knocking up 5 hit a catch off the left-hander which Higgins neatly held. Only 4 runs had been added, when Gadsdon was bowled by Bhumgara. To many, umpire Cooper included, it appeared that his balls had been displaced by the ball rebounding off the wicket keeper's pads. Montague was appealed to twin but emphatically gave it out, the telegraph board now showing 3 wickets for only 16 runs.

Barwell as usual hit out to all loose deliveries, driving Tomkins to the boundary for 3 and putting Bhumgara away to leg and square leg for a 4 and a 3. The East Indian was bowling quite a number of full pitchers, contrary to his usual custom of sending down ground sneaks, with a break to the leg. At 40 he was relieved by Higgins. Friend and Barwell continued to play in great form, sending up the half century in double quick time. Meggett now relieved Tomkins, but to no purpose, as both these batsmen played pretty cricket, driving several deliveries to off and leg.

At 57, Ramsden, who had relieved the Tyke, sent down a ball which Friend skied, Tomkins, unlike the Zingari fielding, holding it and winning much applause. This partnership had added 41 runs, exceeding the Wanderer's score for the loss of a like number of wickets. So keen was the contest at this stage that Higgins deemed it advisable to again put the Parsee in possession of the ball, which was a very wise move. So well did Bhumgara bowl from his end, and so difficult were Higgins's deliveries to play, that a regular collapse set in, seven wickets falling in rapid succession for the paltry addition of seven runs, the opportunity of beating the Wanderers for the third time being lost by such poor form.

The Wanderers owe their well-earned victory to close fielding and the splendid bowling of Bhumgara and their captain. Both these men sent down such difficult balls that run getting was practically impossible. Barwell and Friend were the only two batsmen for the Zingaris to really master the bowling, most of their runs being obtained, however, before the Parsee changed ends. If these two men had not made a stand, the Zingari total would indeed have been a poor one, as ten men between them only added 10 runs.

Only two more interleague matches now remain to be played, and a keen finish is anticipated, as the Wanderers still have a chance to win the meal ticket, put up as the prize.

POISON SCARE EMBARRASSES.

YOUNG WOMAN SENDS POLICE AFTER MAN FRIEND.

Making He Threatens Suicide She Telephones to Officers and Messengers, Pleading That They Dispossess Him of Drug—Santa Fe Buys Land for Shops.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 23.—Because she thought that he was threatening suicide when he told her that he had poison with which to end his troubles, Miss Madge McDonald, a young woman of this city involved her friend, Hanson Hockaway, son of well-known and wealthy family, in an embarrassing predicament last night. The two have been intimate friends for some time, and had a misunderstanding last evening, which resulted in the youth leaving the McDonald home with a suggestive remark about the trouble which he had bought.

The young woman telephoned to the pharmacy and, learning that he had recently made the purchase of poison, she called up the police and the messenger boys, pleading that they search for Hockaway, and dispossess him of the drug. She declared that he had threatened to take his life, and she believed he even then was seeking a secluded spot to die.

The evident alarm was communicated to those appealed to and in short order there was an excited skurrying of officers and messengers, and a widespread appeal to friends to assist. Hockaway was overtaken by an officer as he denied having poison and marched, with the result that the bottle of cyanide was found and returned to the pharmacy. He says he bought the poison to kill cats, and had no intention even of feigning an attempt at suicide.

"SHOW" FOR BILICKE.

President of Alexandria Entertained at Hotel "Theater" in Honor of His Birthday.

A. C. Bilicke, president of the Alexandria Hotel Company, was given a unique entertainment at the hotel in honor of his birthday. One of the banquet rooms was transformed into a miniature theater with stage settings in regulation style. The guests, sixteen in number, represented the audience. According to the programme, it was a gala performance of the Mariposa Theater.
Bilicke-Rowan were named as proprietors of the theater; Whitmore and Reichl, lessees and managers; H. V. Titkary, stage director; Lacy Dobronri, musical director; "Bill," stage carpenter, and "Jess," stage electrician. Gallery patrons were requested to refrain from eating peanuts during the solos. An excellent programme was rendered by the Hungarian Orchestra, Hawaiian Quartette, H. V. Titkary, the young Romandys and Miss Cunyings.
The audience was notified before the performance that the asbestos curtain was absolutely fireproof, but the curtain was not in evidence. A number of jokes were perpetrated that were hugely enjoyed.
Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bilicke, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. B. McCutcheon, Rev. and Mrs. Bert Estes Howard, Miss Browning and Vernon Goodwin.

HUNT CAUSES LOSS OF LEG.

Young Man Perhaps Fatally Injured by Accident in Eagle Rock Country.

Frightfully weakened from loss of blood, and with a leg amputated, Vicente Destalatovich lies in a critical condition at the Clara Barton Hospital. His condition is the result of a hunting trip yesterday.
Destalatovich, who is 20 years old, and whose home is at No. 413 Amelia street, went out with a friend on a quail-hunting expedition in the Eagle Rock country yesterday. The friend carried a gun, and when they were climbing a steep incline, it was accidentally discharged.
The shot took effect in the back of the right knee, and severed all the blood vessels there. Several hours were consumed in removing the boy to the hospital, and in that time he lost much blood.
At the hospital the leg was amputated above the knee by Dr. H. L. Avery, assisted by surgeons of the American Hospital Association. On account of the heavy loss of blood it is hardly likely that the young man will live.

PICKING GOLD FROM TREES.

Over Thousand Dollars an Acre Received at San Bernardino for Grape Fruit.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN BERNARDINO, June 23.—Over $1000 an acre for a crop of grape fruit is the new record at Highland. Last week the Smith brothers, who have three and a fraction acres in the fruit, received $3500 for their crop. Several growers, this season, have received as high as $500 an acre, but this is the first time that the thousand mark has been reached. The orchard is in the eastern end of Highland and the trees being twelve years old. The market on grape fruit this season has been strong, and it has been no trouble to get from 3 to 4 cents per pound.

T. Fred Freeman, the well-known pianist, recently returned from two years' study in Europe, rendered several selections on the pipe organ. Jefferson Taylor, principal of the High School, introduced the class, to which the diplomas were presented by W. W. Smith, president of the board, and Rev. G. H. Seccombe pronounced the benediction.

CONNOISSEUR ON CUT GLASS.

Riverside Burglar Shows Taste—Old Banks May Consolidate—Auto Record Under Sad Conditions.

RIVERSIDE, June 23.—A burglar entered the home of J. S. Castleman, yesterday, and with the taste of a connoisseur, appropriated seven pieces of cut glass from the sideboard. He also took some silver spoons, napkin rings, a safety razor and a mackintosh. He probably anticipated the proverbial rainy day. The booty was carried away in a hat box. Mr. Castleman is in Canada and the house is temporarily occupied by P. S. Castleman and family who were away for the day.

BANKS MAY CONSOLIDATE.

Two of the old financial institutions of this city, the First National Bank and the Riverside Savings Bank and Trust Company, are entertaining a proposition to consolidate. The combined deposits would be about $2,400,000. A meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank will be held Tuesday when action will be taken on a proposition to increase the capital stock of the bank to $300,000, the additional $200,000 of which would be taken at par by the savings bank.

VICTIM OF VISIONS.

Officers today took Thomas Orford, a Perris rancher, to the State Hospital at Patton. His mind has become unhinged from living too much alone and brooding on religion. The man describes strange visions. It was when following a bright star that appeared in one of his visions that he wandered far away from his ranch and was taken into custody. He is about 40 years old.

DEATH CAUSES RECORD RUN.

F. Speers and six companions made the record time of four hours and fifty-five minutes in coming from San Diego to Riverside, yesterday, in a big Stearns automobile. While inspecting the route of the endurance run from Los Angeles to San Diego, Mr. Speers learned of the death of his mother at Long Beach and was hastening home.

COLTON.

COLTON, June 23.—At a meeting of the town trustees last evening it was decided to make an effort to banish the cholo population from the vicinity of the public school in South Colton. A committee composed of M. O. Hert, Supt. C. D. Wilson, Silas Peter Bonagoni was appointed to investigate and report at a meeting to be called later.
Ed Hall, an engineer on the Southern Pacific, is suffering from painful injuries received from a small explosion which occurred while he was repairing his engine. He was badly cut with pieces of glass.
J. H. Shepherdson, whose leg was amputated at the Colton hospital because of blood poisoning, is reported slowly recovering.

"STOP, LOOK, LISTEN."

Duty of Person Crossing a Railroad Track Is Laid Down in Santa Barbara.

SANTA BARBARA, June 22.—Unless one "stops, looks and listens" before stepping before an approaching train and getting killed, one's heirs will stand a slim chance of getting damages out of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. This was the decision handed down, yesterday, by Superior Judge W. P. James of Los Angeles, sitting here for Judge Crow, who is out of the city. Judge James granted a non-suit to the Southern Pacific in the action brought against it by Ellen M. Scuitti and others, heirs of Mrs. Breck, who, on June 4, 1903, failed to "stop, look and listen" before crossing the tracks at Micheltorena street, this city.
She was buried into eternity. Eyewitnesses of the fatality and some of them testifying for the plaintiffs, said that they had heard the rumble of the oncoming train immediately before the woman was struck and while they were in some instances, several blocks from the scene.
It was likewise shown that had the victim taken the precaution to view the track for 200 yards on either side of the crossing she would have saved herself. Therefore Judge James declared that he had no other alternative than to order a non-suit. It is expected, however, that an appeal will be taken from the decision.

LONE WOMEN THEIR VICTIMS.

HIGHWAYMEN PLY THEIR TRADE IN SAN DIEGO.

Robberies Are Committed in More Thickly-Settled Portion of City. Grading Is Begun for Point Loma Electric Railway—Left Legacy by Relative She Never Saw.

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—Many reports have been registered at the Police Station by women who have been robbed by highwaymen. The held-up victims have included a number of society ladies and the offenses have been committed in the most thickly portion of the city and the footpads hide in the dark places, and waylay the women when they pass.

BUILDING ELECTRIC LINE.

Construction work on the line of the Point Loma Electric Railway, from Winder and Indian streets across the flats, through Roseville and over Point Loma to Ocean Beach, is to be started in a few days. The grading is already in progress. The road is to be operated in conjunction with the Spreckels's system and transfers will be given from one to the other.

BECOMES UNCLE'S HEIR.

Mrs. Annie Brakeman, No. 1224 Third street has received word that her uncle Angus MacKenzie of Scotland, has left her a legacy of $10,000. Mrs. Brakeman never saw her uncle, although she had been informed that she was to be remembered in his will.

CITIZENS' PROTEST.

The San Diego and Arizona Railroad Company is up against several hundred people, who are protesting against the closing of numerous streets in Logan Heights, running to the water front, beyond the company's right of way, and the bay shore. A hearing has been appointed before the City Council for Monday evening, July 1.

There is constant and steady demand for country property, ranches, orchards and suburban homes; more so than for any other class of real estate. This is accounted for by the never-ceasing stream of newcomers seeking investment and country homes. Try a classified advertisement in The Times if you desire to dispose of your property. # Don't Be a Weak Man

Dr. Taylor
The Leading Specialist

I want to impress it upon every weak man that I can make him strong, vigorous, healthy, alert and free from every taint of disease and weakness. I have limited my Specialty in practice to only a few of the more important disorders, so that I could KNOW these thoroughly. My experience along this one path for twenty-five years qualifies me to say positively that such troubles as Lost Vigor, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Contracted Disorders, Contagious Blood Poison, Stricture and "Weakness" can be cured perfectly—so as to stay cured. Of course I use different methods than the ordinary physician. Most of these are original with me and were devised for just such cases as the ordinary courses of treatment fail to reach.

The Scientific Treatment of Weakness

Dosing the system with powerful stimulants and tonics in an effort to restore functional vigor can have but one final result: The condition is rendered worse than before. "Weakness" is merely an indication of a low form of inflammation in the prostate gland, and this inflammation is but aggravated by stimulating remedies that excite temporary activity. I employ the only scientific and fully effective treatment for "weakness," which effects a permanent cure by restoring the prostate gland to a sound and healthy state. I obtain complete results in every case I treat. Interesting literature and a beautifully engraved chart free if you will call.

Examination Free

I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a careful Examination and Diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.
If you cannot call, write for Diagnosis Chart. My offices are open all day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and Sundays from 10 to 1 only.

Contracted Ailments
Peculiar to men, whether new, acute or neglected, cured by methods which speedily check inflammation and clear the system of poison. DON'T NEGLECT THE FIRST SYMPTOMS—itching, burning, frequency of urinating, pain, inflammation, discharges. The sooner we begin to treat you the quicker we can effect a cure. Don't expect the troubles to wear away. THE INFECTION WILL NOT CURE ITSELF. It is a specific poison which must be neutralized, and it is a serious matter—serious enough to call for the advice of a specialist. Do not take any formula or injection which may be recommended to you. Drastic medicines are often worse than the disease.
Be careful that this trouble does not get fixed on you, but if you have tried other doctors who have not cured you, come to us. OUR METHODS AVAIL WHERE OTHERS FAIL. If you are so situated that you cannot call, write, describing your case fully.

Don't Neglect It

It is a serious mistake to neglect a weak heart. It is such a short step to chronic heart disease. When you notice irregularity of action, occasioning short breath, palpitation, fluttering, pain in chest or difficulty in lying on left side, your heart needs help—a strengthening tonic. There is no better remedy than Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Its strengthening influence is felt almost at once.

"I have used 10 bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and can truthfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever used, and I have tried nearly everything that I know of. The doctor who attended me asked me what I was taking and I told him Dr. Miles Heart Cure, he said it was not going to do me any good, but it did. I have not taken any for a year now, and while there is occasionally a slight symptom of the old trouble, it is not enough for me to continue the use of the medicine. If I should get worse I would know what to do. Take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure as I did before, I consider myself practically cured of my heart trouble."

Scratch! Scratch! Scratch! Eczema is maddening and the more you scratch the more you itch. Your skin is on fire—your lips and your mouth are dry with the agony of it—your whole body is worn out with the constant suffering—stop scratching—you can't put out the fire with your finger nails. Littell's Liquid Sulphur stops itching instantly and because of its wonderful penetrating qualities comes in direct contact with and kills the germ that causes the disease. It is well known what a perfect antiseptic and germicide sulphur is—all city health departments fumigate houses where contagious disease has been, with sulphur. Honors for Adkinson.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity has just been conferred upon Rev. A. W. Adkinson, presiding elder of the Los Angeles Methodist District, by his alma mater, DePauw University, formerly known as Asbury University, located at Greencastle, Ind. This institution only grants two such favors a year.

Arrested for Slapping.

B. Rodrigues was arrested on a charge of battery last night because he slapped a Chinese lad, at Marches-sault and Los Angeles streets. Two Mexican boys attacked the young Chinaman, who retaliated. The man interfered on behalf of the Mexican boys.

Honors for "Poly."

Polytechnic High School has just been accredited at University of California. The school has had a high standing at Stanford for some time, the president, David Starr Jordan, in a recent visit, speaking very highly of the different departments. It has long been the desire of Polytechnic to have an equal standing at Berkeley.

Woodmen's Smoker.

An open smoker will be given tonight by the Woodmen of the World, under the auspices of La Fiesta Camp, at Mercantile Place. A ful minstrel performance will be given, and a boxing bout will be one of the features. There will be cards and music. Assemblyman J. P. Transue will deliver an address, and Justices Stephens and Selph, both members of the camp, will also speak. Assemblyman F. E. Pierce will act as chairman of the evening.

Wants to Be Beheaded.

Imagining that she would do a great service to humanity by suffering a doctor to behead her, Mrs. Mary O'Herron went to the Pacific Electric building from her home at No. 816 Green avenue, last night, to meet the doctor. For some time the woman loitered about the hallway in front of room No. 714. Finally a special officer noticed her and talked to her. Realizing that she was suffering from dementia, he took her to Central Station.

Housewives' Plaint.

There is bitter complaint from housewives respecting the disposal of leaves, old newspapers and other litter which accumulate in the gutters of the residence streets and are blown hither and thither by the wind. Owing to long intervals between the clearing away of this rubbish by the city's working forces the litter becomes a great eyesore, but when householders attempt to gather and burn it they are compelled by the police to desist from starting street fires.

Musical Debt Lifter.

Gordon Bruce Kingsley, organist at Temple Baptist Church, will be pianist at a concert tomorrow evening at the West Adams Methodist Church, West Adams street and La Salle avenue. Jalme Whitson Overton, violin; Charles Bowes, baritone; Charlotte Pinkham, soprano; Harriet Longstreet, contralto; Miss Beulah Wright and Miss Lucile Culber, readers, and Miss Willy Smyser, accompanist, will assist. The proceeds will be applied on the church debt.

Warns Against Imposters.

Bishop Conaty has issued a warning to the priests and people of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, asking them to beware of imposters who, he has reason to believe, are headed this way with the intention of operating in this territory. They are two young Chaldeans, named Petrus and Mirza, who claim to be collecting funds for the support of Catholic missions in Persia, and carry credentials purporting to have been issued by Mgr. Oludo, a Catholic Chaldean bishop, but which are pronounced fraudulent. They have no authority to collect any funds in this diocese, and Bishop Conaty asks his people to turn the men over to the police if they seek donations of money under these representations.

THIRD TERM TALK GOES ON.

Like the Celebrated Ghost, It Will Not Down.

Interesting Story Told of Tentative Proposal.

Speculation as to Division of State Delegations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The maximum claims of delegates by the leading candidates for the Republican party, Secretary Taft, Senator Knox and Vice-President Fairbanks, show that a popular demand for any man excepting President Roosevelt, who eliminated himself from the race, does not exist in a national sense. The support claimed for each of these candidates is purely of sectional character and, in some respects, remains as yet an uncertain quantity.

The national situation is so uncertain, and the demand for President Roosevelt so insistent that many shrewd students of politics in Washington are willing to take the short end of a wager that he will yet be compelled to accept a second nomination.

In this connection an interesting, though rather icredible, story is told to the effect that the President, while at the Jamestown Exposition, told a prominent southern Republican that he would consent to run again if he were assured of the electoral vote of one southern State.

There will be a few more than 1000 votes in the Republican National Convention. At this time only 202 delegates are surely for Taft and 198 for Knox, not enough to begin to determine the issue. The advance tables giving this result include the following delegations:

For Taft—Ohio 46, Kentucky 26, North Dakota 8, South Dakota 8, Minnesota 22, Kansas 20, Missouri 36, Indiana 30, Illinois 54, Iowa 26, Wisconsin 26. Total, 302.

For Knox—Pennsylvania 68, New Jersey 24, Vermont 8, West Virginia 14, Delaware 6, New York 78. Total, 198.

The Taft managers are confident that Missouri's vote will go to Taft. North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Kansas politicians already have given expression of pro-Taft views, and these States are promised to him. Indiana is primarily for Fairbanks, and Illinois primarily for Cannon. Here another Taft assumption comes in: it is that, when it becomes clear that neither Cannon nor Fairbanks have a chance, Taft will get the vote of these two important States. The argument as to Wisconsin and Iowa is similar. The Knox claim to New York seems to be based on an assertion of something like affinity, though it is undoubtedly true that there is a strong element among Eastern Republicans, the conservative crowd, which is hard at it for Knox and which doubtless will produce votes.

TO MAKE WAR ON GRAFT.

New York Banker Suggests National Organization to Be Headed by Theodore Roosevelt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That graft and corporation dishonesty in the United States could be stamped out if Mr. Roosevelt, upon his retirement, would head an organization to be formed for that purpose, is the opinion of E. Clarence Jones, a New York banker, who has left for Paris to begin his annual automobile tour of the continent.

"Foreigners are criticising American securities and American business methods so adversely, and with so much justice in many cases, that the necessity of reform is apparent to every honest American business man. It is a fact that the small shareholder suffers from graft in almost every great business enterprise in the United States.

"...any years' experience and thought have convinced me that the only method of dealing with this widespread dishonesty is by a powerful unpurchasable organization which could offer attractive prizes for information and conviction.

"At its head there should be a man whose personality is of international weight, whose name is synonymous with the "square deal" to wage a successful campaign.

"If Mr. Roosevelt would consent to take the head of such an organization, the necessary money doubtless could be raised quite easily, for everybody in the United States, irrespective of party, has entire confidence in his integrity.

"Mr. Roosevelt is the one man, in my opinion, who could lead such a force as I suggested, and he is the man who could make it absolutely efficient. The public service he would be able to render would be inestimable."

Warning to Novgorod Reds.

NOVGOROD (Russia) June 23.—The Governor of Novgorod, Count Medem, has caused to be posted in the cities and villages of the province of Novgorod, an order announcing that severe measures will be taken to suppress disorders and warning the inhabitants that the troops will use firearms to disperse every meeting or demonstration at which a red flag is shown.
